TRUCKS LOADED WITH CHILDREN ON WAY TO OUTING GROUNDS

Old Sol smiled serenely from his altitudinous abode this morning, local Rotarians counter-smiled, in acquiescence and 136 children from five Lowell orphanages were made happy on this, the occasion of their second annual outing at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro.

It was a holiday of superlative proportions from the moment the 33 automobiles left the Ayer home in Pawtucket street and chugged and purred their way in parade formation through the down-town streets, until the objective was reached, where many features of the busy day were carried out.

Exactly at 11 o'clock, the gaily decorated automobiles, to the musical accompaniment of Altkin's band, started the procession down Merrimack street to Central, Appleton, Westford, Pine and Wilder streets to the Princeton boulevard, and thence to the outing grounds.

The first machine in line contained His Excellency, Gov. Channing H. Cox, Edward F. Horrigan, state detective attaché to the governor, Chief of Police Thomas A. Atkinson and Rotary President Hutchins Parker. Congressman John Jacob Rogers followed in his own car, and then came Mayor Brown and Harry Pitts, chairman of the outing committee. The 33 machines, carrying the plenitude of next in line, each machine numbered and bearing the inscription "Children's Outing—Lowell Rotary Club—1922" on a triangular placard. Each child carried an American flag and presented a very pretty picture as they passed the on-lookers along the line of parade.

On arrival at the beautiful and picturesque grounds, a 300-pound entertainer, imported from Boston for the occasion, amused the gathering with clownish antics. A substantial luncheon was served with plenty of ice cream, Moxie, milk and other soothing beverages for dessert.

The afternoon was occupied with a bunch and Judy show, which greatly delighted the boys and girls. This was followed by athletic events and playground games under the supervision of local playground instructors. Despite the intense heat of the day, everything proceeded without interruption until the return trip was begun at 5 o'clock, bringing an end to a most enjoyable and eventful day. The following committee was in charge: Harry Pitts, chairman; Hutchins Parker, Walter R. Joyce, F. Leroy Parcher, Harry G. Pollard, Alvah H. Weaver, Benjamin S. Pouzner, Thomas Lees, William A. Mitchell and Robert Thomson.

FORTY-FIVE MEN TAKEN IN MINE FIGHT

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 18.—Forty-five men are in custody here and at Wheeling as a consequence of the battle at the Clifton mine of the Richland Coal Co., at Cliftonville, early yesterday, in which at least four persons were killed.

Acting on orders from Sheriff Thomas Duvall of Brooke county, whose father, Sheriff H. M. Duvall, was killed in the battle, Deputy Sheriff George L. Cardwell, late last night, broke up and dispersed the tent colony of striking miners near the scene of the fighting. State police of West Virginia and Pennsylvania patrolled their respective sides of the border. The attackers in the mine fight were said to have crossed into West Virginia from the border state.

HARDING TO OUTLINE FEDERAL POLICY IN TWO BIG STRIKES

Nation's Chief Executive Will Issue Communication to Heads of States Most Involved in Coal and Rail Difficulties

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Harding will issue a communication today to the governors of the states, outlining federal policy in the coal and rail strike situations. In the meantime, no statement concerning the government's attitude will be made public, it was said at noon at the White House. The message will be directed particularly to the chief executives of the coal-producing states, where the government considers the complications in the coal and rail matters have become most serious.

MASSACHUSETTS STRIKE

Unions Claim More Than 1000 Hands Are Out—No Word From Mill

Following a meeting of the unions represented among the strikers at the Massachusetts mills, held in Trades & Labor hall at 10 o'clock this morning, a statement was issued to the effect that the entire organized force of the mills was out this morning and a number of unorganized employees had come out also. This raises the number of strikers, according to the publicity committee, to more than 1000. In fact, they feel that the number exceeds that total.

The organized employees at the mill are as follows: Slasher-tenders, 100 per cent.; loomfixers, 100 per cent.; beamers, 100 per cent.; wing spinners and fixers, 100 per cent.; card room, 75 per cent. and weavers, 90 per cent. These union members attended the mass meeting this morning to arrange plans for the conduct of the strike in conjunction with that now in existence at the Hamilton and Bay State mills.

MANDAMUS IN ABEYANCE

Blazon's Case in Supreme Court Again Today, But No Action

Written Arguments to Be Presented to Judge Crosby on Thursday

Statements of facts in the petition for a writ of mandamus brought by Albert J. Blazon to compel Mayor Brown, the members of the city council and the board of assessors to recognize him as an assessor, were filed with Justice Crosby at this morning's session of the supreme judicial court held in Boston. The statements were presented by Albert S. Howard of Quia, Howard & Rogers, counsel for Mr. Blazon, and City Solicitor E. J. Tierney, who represents the various officials involved. It was expected that Justice Crosby would hear the arguments in the case today, but, instead, he requested that briefs containing legal arguments be filed with him within the next two days.

The case was first called shortly after 10:30 o'clock, City Solicitor Tierney had not arrived at that time and Mr. Howard requested that the case be put over until Mr. Tierney's arrival and the request was granted. Mr. Tierney put in an appearance shortly before 11 o'clock.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN AND STOCK

Spectacular Blaze in No. Chelmsford Razes Barn of Charles Carkins

Horse, Hay, Farm Implements and Hens Lost in the Flames

Dunstable road was the scene of a spectacular blaze around 11 o'clock last night when the barn of Charles Carkins was destroyed by fire. Mr. Carkins had just stored five tons of hay in the barn and this was a total loss. A tractor, a complete equipment of farming tools, several hens and a valuable horse also were lost.

The occupants of the farm house, which is 100 feet from the barn, were aroused by the barking of the dog and when they arrived at the barn, the center of it was a mass of flames. Mr. Carkins rushed in to lead the horse out but due to the excitement the horse became balky and kicked him severely, bruising him about the body. A doctor was called and dressed the wounds.

Mr. Carkins stuck to the task, however, and got the horse as far as the door, when he dropped. The flames had become so fierce by this time that it was impossible to get to the horse again and he was burned.

The North Chelmsford fire department was called and made a rapid run to the fire. When they arrived, Chief Joseph D. Ryan saw that the barn was doomed and had his men protect the house. The barn and the fixtures were a total loss.

LIQUOR CASES IN COURT

Dutton Street Merchant Denies Knowledge of Still But Court Fines Him

A trail of sugar once led the vigilant liquor officers to the lair of a 50-gallon still and 200 gallons of prepared mash, manning behind the clothes of a second hand shop in Dutton st. Today in district court, Abraham Lescard, the proprietor, said he knew nothing of the plant, but had let the tenement, containing it, to a stranger. A diary was presented in court, belonging to the defendant, in which was listed the cost of sugar, yeast, bottles.

Fireman Killed and Score Seriously Injured in Warehouse Blasts in Greenwich Village

15-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNED AT MUNICIPAL BATHING POOL

John Campbell's Cries for Help Were Not Taken Seriously and He Went Down 50 Feet From Shore—Was Endeavoring to Reach Diving Raft and Became Exhausted

John Campbell, aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of 32 Chapel street, was drowned this forenoon at the municipal bathing pool in the Merrimack river. The body was recovered about 50 feet from shore by the police, using grappling irons.

At about 9:30 o'clock the lad was in the water with a companion and is thought to have started to swim out to the diving raft. Other young boys were nearby, but when they heard his cries for help they did not take them seriously and he sank before anyone could reach his side. His companion succeeded in reaching the raft, but was so thoroughly exhausted that he had to be taken to shore in a boat.

The city life guards do not report for duty until 11 a. m. and as a result no other person was at the pool when the accident occurred.

The police arrived at the pool, with pulmotor and grappling irons, shortly after the fatality had been reported, but when the lad's body finally was recovered, it had been in the water too long a time and artificial resuscitation proved fruitless.

Besides his father and mother the boy is survived by three brothers and three sisters. He was graduated from St. Peter's school last month and was to enter Boston college high school in the fall.

SHOPMEN REACH AN AGREEMENT

40,000 Employees of Pennsylvania Road Treat With Employers

New Rates of Pay Effective July 16—140,000 Men Involved

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The Pennsylvania railroad announced today that a wage agreement has been negotiated between representatives of the shopmen still employed by the company and representatives of the management, affecting more than 40,000 men.

The company had previously announced wage agreements with representatives of maintenance of way employees, signal department men and clerks and miscellaneous forces, affecting, including the shopmen, 140,000 men on the system. The new rates of pay in each case are effective as of July 16 instead of July 1, as previously announced.

The new schedule of wages differs in some respects from the rates established by the labor board for other railroads, the announcement said, but the difference is in favor of the Pennsylvania employees. For the most part, the Pennsylvania system rates are graded in accordance with skill and experience required and the prevailing rates are generally higher than those established for other railroads.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 18.—President Harding's present difficulties with the coal and railroad strikes are troubles "inherited" from the Wilson administration in some respects, Senator Willis, republican, Ohio, declared in an address here last night before the Hudson County Republican club.

"Not only have the present unfortunate industrial troubles come to President Harding," said Senator Willis, "as the ripened, bitter and certain fruitage of mistakes policies in the past but on March 4, 1921, there was handed to him the most tangled, disorganized wrack in governmental affairs that was ever presented by one administration to another."

PREMIER LENINE REPORTED DEAD

Was Poisoned on a Train While Journeying to Bathing Resort

LONDON, July 18 (by the Associated Press).—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Stockholm today quotes a correspondent as saying he has been reliably informed that Premier Lenine of soviet Russia has been murdered.

The correspondent says it is believed the soviet premier was poisoned on a train while journeying to a Caucasian bathing resort. The assassination is attributed to representatives of radical communists now in power in Moscow. The correspondent was informed that Premier Lenine's body was thrown into a river on the morning of July 17. It was said one of Premier Lenine's attendants, a member of the executive committee of the international revolution, reported as an accomplice in the assassination, is impersonating the soviet premier at a bathing resort.

SAY STRIKE-BREAKERS BEING WEEDED OUT

Pickets at the B. & M. carshops in North Billerica reported to the strike headquarters today that the company officials are weeding out the strike-breakers rapidly. Just what is meant by this process is not readily understood by the federated craftsmen, but they are inclined to the belief that the railroad people see the end of the strike approaching, and they want to get the new men out as quickly as possible.

At the round house and other places it is said that the men are throwing up their jobs and reporting to strike headquarters that they have quit. The strikers claim that they have a list of men from Lawrence and Lowell and suburbs who have been noticed at work by the pickets. They feel, they feel, they feel.

Men Seen With Pushcart Filled With Boxes Enter Door

Explosion Follows Few Seconds After They Came Out, Says Witness

NEW YORK, July 18.—A series of explosions caused by a fire wrecked a six story warehouse in Greenwich Village today, killed a fire lieutenant, seriously injured more than a score of persons, shattered windows for blocks and drove hundreds from their homes in neighboring tenements.

At 10 o'clock more than an hour after the first blast occurred intermittent explosions continued filling that section of the city with fumes and smoke. Five fire alarms had brought to the scene the greatest array of fire apparatus turned out since the Equitable building fire.

"Smoky Joe" Martin, acting fire chief, told Mayor Hylan that the explosion was the worst he had experienced in his many years in the department.

APPROACHING CLIMAX

Slight Feeling Exists That Hague Parley Will Continue

THE HAGUE, July 18 (by the Associated Press).—Every delegate to the Russian conference had the feeling today that affairs were approaching a climax. The Russian representatives are furious at the European experts' refusal to arrange a general meeting of all the leaders to discuss together all the problems before the conference and declared that nothing could be accomplished by holding separate detached negotiations. The French delegation has little faith in the attempt to reopen the conference.

LOWELL LIQUOR CASE BEFORE HAYES

BOSTON, July 18.—Whether a prohibition agent guarded by his sense of smell, erred in seizing whiskey and arresting the owner in a private garage was a question that came before United States Commissioner Hayes today. Sam Crone, a junk dealer, was arrested recently in a garage in Lowell after he had been followed into the building by an agent who said he traced Crone's automobile by the odor of liquor coming from it. Former Assistant Federal Atty. Gen. counsel for Crone contended today that the seizure was made on private property and was illegal.

H. GRAY ENTERS LISTS

Will Fight Against Jewett, Achin and Berard in 15th Rep. District

The quiet that has prevailed in the representative district, embracing wards 3, 6, 7 and 8 of Lowell, was today disturbed when John J. Gray, of 236 Plain street, took out papers seeking a nomination right under the noses of Messrs. Jewett, Achin and Berard, the present representatives and one or two others who also expressed a desire to "horn in" on the triple alliance this year.

Mr. Gray's action rudely shattered the dreams of Mr. Jewett and Mr. Achin particularly for the Heavenly Twins had anticipated no such political bombshell. What is more, Mr. Gray announced in no uncertain terms that "he is out to win" and will conduct an energetic campaign all the year.

Mr. Gray's interests are many and of late he has expressed his disgust over the way things are being handled on Beacon hill, particularly in the representative chamber and more particularly by the group of three who care for the inhabitants of the 15th district namely Messrs. Jewett, Achin and Berard.

While Mr. Gray has not been interviewed since he decided to become an independent candidate, friends are close to him politically say that he has a number of reform movements up his sleeve, to be launched at appropriate times. One has to do with the legislation of public burying grounds. For some time Mr. Gray has been intensely interested in cemeteries and more than once has expressed the belief that one who lies there should rest undisturbed by the ranting of politicians. This is just one of the many things Mr. Gray has in mind along the line of reform in the building with a good home.

Erson B. Barlow, county commissioner, has filed papers with the board of election commissioners, as has George E. Marchand, candidate for register of deeds. Frank K. Stearns has taken out papers in the interest of a candidacy for the same office.

The seventh candidate in the 15th district has appeared in the person of Louis Donohue of 553 Central street. Donohue was a candidate two years ago.

A set of papers has been filed for John Jackson Walsh, candidate for the moonratic nomination for United States senator.

ICE DEALERS SUMMONED

BY HULTMAN

BOSTON, July 18.—Twenty-five Massachusetts ice dealers who failed to respond to the questionnaire of Chairman Eugene C. Hultman of the commission on the necessities of life, have been summoned to appear before the commission Friday to show the cost of harvesting and distributing ice and the prices charged. These dealers, Mr. Hultman said, failed to answer a questionnaire sent out to 600 dealers in the state on June 20 and failed to respond to other communications addressed to them on June 30 and July 12.

The dealers summoned included: D. A. Lagasse, Fall River, and the Crystal Ice Co., Taunton.

PLEDGES SUPPORT TO SIX SENATORS

CHICAGO, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The third German-American national conference which closed its sessions here last night, adopted resolutions pledging support to Beveridge of Indiana; Brookhart of Iowa; Frazier of North Dakota; La Follette of Wisconsin; France of Maryland and Reed of Mississippi for United States senators.

The conference also demanded revision of war treaties; withdrawal of troops from Germany; approval of the inquiry into the Allen property; and a constitutional amendment requiring a referendum to declare war except in case of actual invasion; and demanded immediate return of beer and wine.

DECLARES AMERICA MUST TAKE LEAD

MOSCOW, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Leo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow soviet, today discussing the Hague conference said failure to reach an agreement with the European powers as a group undoubtedly would lead to separate negotiations. "We are always ready to enter negotiations with America," he said, "and we have made several advances. But now America must take the lead, since we have had no replies to our previous advances."

BRADBURY WILL RETURN TO PARIS

PARIS, July 18.—The return to Paris today or tomorrow of Sir John Bradbury from London, where he has been conferring with Prime Minister Lloyd George and other British government officials is expected to give considerable impetus to the plan for a new repatriation settlement involving the cancellation of the French debt to England and the reduction of the German indemnity to $5,000,000,000 gold marks.

WOMAN CANDIDATE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—Mrs. Francis A. Bell, of Bellingham, was endorsed by the State Federation of Labor, Non-Partisan league and the Railwaymen's Political club, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator at the primary elections in the fall.

Five Alarms Are Sounded

the pavements. Neighbors, rushed out, some tugging household furniture with them, were hung to the streets by the explosions. Many only slightly injured were treated on the spot, the more severely hurt being conveyed to hospitals.

A theory that the fire was started by incendiaries was advanced to the bomb squad by Anthony Faone, who lives opposite the warehouse. He said before 8 o'clock he had seen three men with a pushcart stop in front of the building and carry several boxes in. As they emerged, he said he heard an explosion and saw flames. He turned in the alarm.

Lieutenant Francis, treasurer of the warehouse company, declined to tell fire officials, before he had consulted his lawyer, what the contents of the warehouses were, but firemen said it contained magnesia and sulphur.

Lieut. J. J. Shoppemeyer was killed and nearly a score of firemen were injured, shortly after the first fire apparatus had arrived.

Lieut. Shoppemeyer had led his men inside the building, when an explosion tore loose part of the structure and hurled him. He was dragged from the building by his men, but was crushed to death in the street, beneath a falling porthouse. Several of the men who had carried him out were injured.

One of the explosions tore away almost an entire side of the building and hurled several firemen to the opposite sidewalk.

Explosions continued intermittently through the forenoon, and the smoke around the building thickened.

Patriot Driscoll, assistant to the general manager of the Star Publishing company which publishes the New York American and the Journal, said his company had a million pounds of newspaper paper stored in the warehouse.

Many of the seriously injured were women and police. Hundreds of blue-coats called to the scene rescued frightened tenement dwellers and others were posted at all abandoned dwellings to see that no one looted vacated homes.

Smoke Thick
Two hours after the fire broke out, the smoke had become so thick that a call was sent to a Brooklyn firehouse to bring searchlights to Greenwich Village.

There are no records in the fire department showing any permission for the presence of chemicals in the building and if there were any stored there they were stored there illegally, said Commissioner Drannan.

Death Toll Grows
At noon the casualty list stood at two dead, nearly 30 injured and three missing. The toll was taken chiefly from the ranks of the fire and police departments.

Among the hundreds driven from their homes were artists and poets inhabiting the Bohemian section of the city. These folk, carrying their canvases and their manuscripts—which in many cases comprised most of their household possessions—raced from their attics and cellars. Nearly five hours after the blaze started the cause was undetermined and the casualty list unchecked. The Red Cross opened a temporary hospital in a 12th street garage.

FOUR LAWRENCE

MEN SHOT AT

Arrive in City and Say Motorists Beat Them and Then Fired

Claimed Offer of Assistance Resulted in Attack Upon Them

LAWRENCE, July 18.—Four men of this city reported to the police today that they had been beaten and shot at by a party of motorists whom they had offered to help near Hampshire Roads, near Salem, N. H. Three of the men, who exhibited several cuts and bruises, gave their names as George O'Brien, John J. Purcell and Amherst Macartney. The fourth said he was a chauffeur named Young. The men said that when they offered their assistance to the four men and two women who were occupying the machine, they were told to "mind their business" and that several shots were fired at them. The automobile then started in the direction of Salem, they said but soon returned. Finding the Lawrence motorists still in the vicinity, the police were told that the men badly battered them and after firing several more shots, departed on the Salem road.

Men who gave their names as Thomas Maguire and Thomas McManis of this city were later treated for bullet wounds at a hospital here. The police began an inquiry to determine whether the patients had been involved in the reported shooting.

REACH AGREEMENT

Morning Session of League in Expression of Pleasure Over Progress

LONDON, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—At the morning session of the Council of the League of Nations, the Earl of Halifax, British representative, said it was a source of gratification to announce that a complete agreement had been reached between Great Britain and the United States regarding the Palestine mandate and the Mandates covering the former German possessions in Africa. The Mesopotamian mandate, however, had not been completely dealt with by the two governments, he said.

Revised drafts of the British, French and Belgian mandates for the Central African territories, designed to meet the views of the United States were submitted and approved.

EIGHT CITIZENS ANSWER

PIRACY CHARGES

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eight citizens of the Georgian republic are to appear in the assizes court at Aix-en-Provence next Thursday to answer to a charge of piracy on the high seas. They are alleged to have boarded the French steamer Souhrai, bound from Batum for Trebizond.

Two men appeared on the captain's bridge. One leveled a revolver at the officer on duty, and the other pointed his weapon at the man at the wheel. Two others took possession of the telegraph office, while shots were heard in various parts of the ship, throwing the passengers into a panic.

The men went through the passengers' possessions, placing jewels and other valuables in sacks, it is charged.

Strike Breakers Weeded Out

has caused great numbers to quit their jobs.

That only one engine has been turned out at the shops since the strike began has brought considerable enthusiasm to the strikers. They will know that the road cannot long continue to function without their services, even though all work possible is given to outside shops. As the engine is the most important unit in either a passenger or freight train, the strikers feel that the company must have the striking skilled help at an early date.

The press committee stated definitely today that it is very much pleased with the situation as it stands this morning. It feels that it will be but a short time until matters are brought to a head.

Plans are being outlined for a great mass meeting in Billerica some time this week, that the workers and their families residing in that town may know the state of affairs and the way in which the strike is being conducted in Lowell. They want all members of the various crafts in that town to get together.

They state that the largest number of strikebreakers employed at the Billerica plant at any time was 300. These figures include unskilled labor. The unskilled labor, they say, predominates, as there are very few skilled mechanics at work.

The press committee expressed its gratitude to the Musicians' union for turning out at the mass meeting last Friday night. Yesterday they listened to remarks by C. E. Dudley, grand lodge chaplain of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of America, and Frank Jennings, business representative of the International Association of Machinists. They were enthused by the words of both speakers. Mr. Dudley took in the situation in the eastern states and Mr. Jennings gave a general discussion of countrywide aspects.

There will be another mass meeting of the strikers Thursday afternoon, which all members are urged to attend.

The Boston & Maine railroad company issued the following statement in regard to conditions on its road today:

"Passenger and freight service continue to be maintained at normal. General conditions are satisfactory."

Clouts Homer, Is Out for Passing Man on Paths

Can you imagine a batter hitting a terrific drive into the stands for a home run and then being called out for passing a preceding runner on the base lines?

Not well, that actually happened several years ago in a game between Chicago and Washington at Chicago. Catcher Eddie Gharrity of the Washington club was the player who hit the ball. Frank Ellerbe, then with Washington, flew with the St. Louis Browns, pulled the bit of ivory on the bases, which had Gharrity as the victim.

The umpire in charge immediately called Gharrity out for passing a preceding base runner.

The Washington club yelled long and loud, insisting such a decision was not in keeping with fair play, since the ball had passed out of the playing field and no play possible on the runners.

The umpire remained firm, however, and the play on the part of Ellerbe must be given a ruling in the list of famous "bones."

LOWELL MAN TURNED

OVER TO U. S. OFFICERS

BOSTON, July 18.—Nicholas Kisloft of Lowell, who was arrested a year ago charged with raising a federal reserve note from $1 to $10, was freed on $2500 bail, and had since been employed in the woods of Maine and New Hampshire, unaware that the federal authorities were looking for him, came to Boston a couple of weeks ago and got a job.

Yesterday he thought he would call in to see the bondsman on Leverett street who put up the $2500 securities at the time of his arrest. The bondsman was very glad to see Kisloft, in fact he had been looking for him, so when Kisloft wanted to know how his case was progressing, the bondsman invited him to the federal building.

The bondsman's attorney went along with them. When they reached the federal district court the lawyer announced they had come to surrender. Judge Kisloft, when questioned, told Judge Mack he did not know he had been indicted last fall. After being released on bail, he said he went to work, he said. A few weeks ago he came to Boston and got a job.

Judge Mack asked Kisloft what it cost him to obtain bail at the time of his arrest. Judge Mack told the bondsman and his attorney that he would not allow them to surrender Kisloft unless $600 was paid back to Kisloft or his friends who raised it for the defendant. Sixty dollars was passed to the court for Kisloft on his friends, and then Kisloft was turned over to the United States marshal.

NEW ENGLAND HAS

50 DAYS' FUEL

BOSTON, July 18.—Figures based on a survey of public utilities companies in New England show a 50 days supply for 28 companies engaged in the electric light and power industry; 45 days' supply for 52 gas companies and 66 days' supply for 11 electric street railway companies, says a statement given out today by the New England bureau of public utilities information.

The survey was made by the American Electric Railway association, National Electric Light association and the American Gas association after 15 weeks of coal strike.

Mandamus in Abyeance

fore 11 o'clock at which time the case was again taken up. The statements of facts were presented by both counsel and then Justice Crosby announced that he would not hear arguments and requested counsel to file them in writing between now and Friday, and he will give his finding later.

A preliminary hearing on the petition was held last Tuesday, at which time it was continued until today in order to give counsel for both sides an opportunity to file statements of facts. Mr. Blazon in his petition contends that Wilfred J. Achin, who is now serving as an assessor, was not legally appointed to succeed him inasmuch as the city council and not the mayor designated whom Mr. Achin should displace. Mr. Blazon contending that the power of designation lies alone in the mayor.

Mr. Blazon was not present in court this morning, but Mr. Achin was, and prior to the calling of the case, conferred with City Solicitor Tierney.

today to work along with the board which has conducted the strike for the last 28 weeks, in co-operation with the president of the Trades and Labor council. This board will have its first meeting tomorrow at 8 a. m. to organize, after which it will join with the other board in regular meetings every afternoon at 3 o'clock. Plans are being laid for meetings on the common after base ball games, and in other localities as well.

Asked whether or not any action would be taken relative to the situation at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. or the Lawrence hosiery, President Handley stated that it was not worthy of consideration, since the number of workers involved is inconsiderable.

Pickets were at the Massachusetts mill gates this morning and again this order was manifested in any case. The workers leaving the mills were unharmed and unapproached. According to the plans of those in charge the mill will be picketed in the evening as well as in the daytime.

No statement was available at the mill office this morning as none of the officials could be reached. They claimed yesterday that but 200 employees had quit, and as the strikers claimed about the same amount as an addition to their force this morning, it is doubtful if they would agree with the figures given above.

An Easy Way For

Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, straightforward advice to thin, underweight men and women.

If you are thin, scrawny and underdeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of it.

Yes, you can eat three, yes, four substantial, fat producing meals a day, but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force it will not make out of the food the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it to healthy flesh and fat, the nervous control of the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you eat just as well as trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-the-flesh and can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty, nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half-starved looks are hailing with delight the quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for restoring faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and will make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and leading druggists everywhere are glad to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid stay-the-flesh.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE

BLEACHES FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan bleach, and complexion whitener.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes bleach out and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes.—Adv.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past." — Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain. If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a trial.

Deer Startles New Haven Crowd

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 18.—Early morning crowds on their way to work here were startled when a full grown deer dashed across "the green" at the entrance to Yale university and plunged across the city's busiest corner. The deer then leaped full tilt at a trolley car. Tumbling from the car the deer ran across the Bennett Fountain corner and pursued by half a dozen policemen and a crowd of men and boys, fled through several side streets. It stopped for a moment on Crown street and then sped into the corridor of the First National bank building where it died a few minutes later from its injuries and fright.

Filipino Runs Wild, Slashing Eight

MANILA, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A Filipino ran amuck today in the heart of the American residential, hotel and club district, slashing eight persons with a bolo. A large crowd pursued him to the beach at Manila bay, where he jumped into the water and was lassoed by an army captain who had followed him in a boat. There were no Americans among the injured.

Says He Tried to Kill Both

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Gustav Loevet, who fired three shots in an attempt to assassinate President Millerand on July 14, in a formal examination yesterday said he really planned to assassinate the president and Premier Poincare, expecting them both to ride in the same carriage.

Slayers of Wilson Sentenced

LONDON, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Reginald Dunn and Joseph O'Sullivan were found guilty today, after trial in the Old Bailey, of the murder of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, who was shot down in front of his home on Eaton Place, last month. The convicted men were sentenced to death.

About Prophets

THE old proverb that a prophet is without honor in his own land frequently gains a modern meaning in the fact that the sales of a manufacturer are usually small in his local town.

We have established an exception with Jersey Ice Cream. By far the majority of local dealers sell Jersey. Not because we make it, but because its quality sells it. And because we improve that quality just as frequently as machines and methods are developed to make such improvement possible.

NEBRASKA PRIMARIES

Race for U. S. Senatorial Nomination on Republican Ticket Interesting

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—Principal interest in the Nebraska primaries today centered in the race for the United States senatorial nomination on the republican ticket, in which R. B. Howell of Omaha, republican national committeeman, made his campaign as "a forward-looking republican."

Albert W. Jeffers of Omaha, present congressman; C. H. Gustafson, head of the United States Grain Growers, Inc.; John C. Yelver of Omaha; Attorney General Clarence M. Davis and Frank John of Grand Island, also were contestants.

In the democratic primary, Senator G. M. Hitchcock, Anthony T. Monahan of Omaha and J. O. Shroyer of Humboldt were candidates for the senatorial nomination.

Progressives were to choose between A. H. Bigelow, Omaha attorney, and Arthur G. Wray of York, prominent in Theodore Roosevelt's "Bull Moose" party in 1912, as their choice for the senate nomination.

All three parties have candidates for governor and state officer. The prohibitionists have a woman candidate for congress in the first district, Mrs. E. Luella Barton of Lincoln, who was nominated without opposition.

WILKERSON WILL SUCCEED LANDIS

Appointment by President Harding of James H. Wilkerson to succeed J. C. M. Landis as federal judge in the Chicago district is considered a blow at the Thompson-Small machine in Illinois as Wilkerson was the chief lawyer for the state in the recent trial of Governor Small. Wilkerson was born in Missouri in 1862 and was graduated from De Paul university at Greenville, Ind., in 1889. He has been practicing law in Chicago since 1908.

Door Bell on Crystal Set Helps Learn Radio Code

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.

America's Foremost Authority

An ordinary door buzzer, or a door bell with the gong removed, may be connected with an antenna to act as telegraph transmitter.

Hooked up to a crystal receiver such a transmitter has been known to operate satisfactorily over distances of three or four miles. The range covered will depend upon the power of the battery used.

An increasing number of persons who have become interested in listening to radio broadcasting are picking up the code. It adds fascination to reception. It lets the am-teur listen in on the inside of radio.

The pleasure of being able to understand the thousands of telegraph messages that are flashed from continent to continent, from ship to ship, more than compensates one for the trouble and time expended in picking up the code. The average time required for mastering the code ranges between three and five months.

But, within a very short time, a beginner can reach the stage where he can pick up calls of stations which are usually repeated several times.

Having memorized the alphabet and in reception can be developed by a little practice on the door-buzzer transmitter.

Film Sense—What Is It? Ask Georges

MAE MURRAY. "THE ROSE OF BROADWAY" IS HER LATEST. SURE, SHE'LL HAVE A DANCE OR TWO IN IT

ALICE BRADY. SHE HAS COMPLETED "MISSING MILLIONS," HER FIRST MOVIE IN MANY MONTHS

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, July 18.—Georges Carpentier, prizefighting idol of Europe, has surprised the producers of his new starring movie with his "film sense," a London correspondent informs me. "Film sense" is a new attribute of players. It is rather vague in meaning, but in the case of Carpentier it is a prizefighter when he is before the camera as a nobleman. The term might have a more specific meaning applied to some of our American players. And to directors, too, it is probably a lack of film sense that results in some of our actresses rigging themselves up like specters of a rarebit nightmare, others overplay-

ing their parts and directors and producers adding bunk to gain footage. Lack of film sense may cover a multitude of sins of omission. Carpentier's picture is based on an adaptation by Andrew Scott of "My Lady April," a novel by John Overton. He plays a dual role, a nobleman's grandson and a boxing gypsy. The picture is now nearing completion. More than 500 appear in the cast. Flora Le Breton is the heroine. She has the title role in "La Poupee" and appeared as the companion to the heroine of "The Glorious Adventure" in which Lady Diana Manners was starred. Mary Clara also has an important role. She recently appeared on the

London stage as the Dark Lady of the Sonnets in Clement Dane's "Will Shakespeare" and also in Galsworthy's "The Skin Game."

J. Stuart Blackton, the producer, has included in the cast many of those who appeared in "The Glorious Adventure." Among them William Lunt who was King Charles II and Rosalie Heath who was Queen Catherine. Lloyd Brown is credited with having invented a new color process for motion pictures. He has been working on it four years at Hollywood laboratories. Unlike other processes this one is not based on chemical development.

Brown's process lies in an arrangement of photography and projection. A double lensed camera is used to photograph through red and green color filters. Two exposures being secured simultaneously. These are printed in black and white on the film, but that in turn is projected upon the screen through color filters.

The film uses 56 images to the foot, arranged side by side instead of the usual 16 images. The running time of the film is half that of the ordinary film.

The movies continue to make appreciable and visible inroads upon the popularity of the stage. Fox has leased for the coming winter season two of the most important Shubert theatres in New York, the Lyric and the 44th street. Such feature films as "Nero," "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," "Monte Cristo," "If Water Comes," "The Town That Forgot God," and "The Shepherd King" will have extended runs.

The Movieforum

Harold Lloyd's "Grandma's Boy" has been running nine weeks at a Los Angeles theatre.

Leah Baird and her company have gone to South America for scenes of her next film.

Uh huh, another title change. "Captain Blackbird" will now be known as "Passions of the Sea."

Fifteen lions and tigers will support Billy Bevan in "When Summer Comes," the next Sonnet comedy.

Burton King has started production of "The Streets of New York" which was made about ten years ago in three reels. The cast of the new version includes Tyrone Power, Edmund Breese, Sheldon Lewis, Virginia Pearson, Robert Frazer, Virginia Lee and Kate Blanche.

U. S. FOREIGN TRADE SHOWS DECLINE

WASHINGTON, July 18.—America's foreign trade for the fiscal year ended June 30, resulted in a favorable trade balance of $1,162,000,000, which was a decline of nearly $2,000,000,000 from the favorable balance of the previous year, according to reports issued today by the commerce department. Exports during the fiscal year just closed aggregated $3,770,000,000, and imports $2,608,000,000, as compared with exports of $3,516,000,000 and imports of $3,684,000,000 for the previous fiscal year. Exports last month totalled $324,000,000 and imports $260,000,000 against exports of $337,000,000 and imports of $158,000,000 in June 1921.

MARDI GRAS PLANS FOR THE KASINO

On next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at the Kasino a big Mardi Gras and carnival will be held, with feature attractions of uncommon interest each evening. A change of program each night will add variety to the success of the affair, which is for the benefit of St. Anthony's church.

On Wednesday evening Doris Conley, one of Lowell's best too dancers, will be the big attraction. On Thursday evening arrangements have been made to secure the services of Fred Savard, known as the "Dancing Wizard" in a few steps, and as an extra added attraction, Misses Lillian and Ethel McLaughlin, two of Lowell's most popular child dancers will appear. After the ball game on the common Thursday evening if the weather permits, there will be a six-mile race starting and finishing at the Kasino. The following entries for this feature have announced their intention of winning the race: Fred Couture, J. Cote, B. Rodrick, J. Wells, C. Bryant and W. Turner. On Friday evening there will be a fancy dance exhibition by Messrs. Jack Devine and Finnegan. All kinds of concessions will be found about the hall.

A regular meeting of the board was held late yesterday afternoon, with only routine business being transacted.

THE POLITICAL TARIFF

Never perhaps in the history of the country was congress involved in a more hopeless controversy than at the present time in the inextricable tariff tangle. It was supposed that the republicans with such a large majority could easily pass any measure they desired, but they have haggled over the tariff bill now for two years and as yet there is little prospect of any definite settlement or satisfactory action. The bill before the senate is regarded as one of the most unscientific that has ever been brought forward for enactment as a solution of the tariff issue. There are 528 members in congress of whom 169 are democrats, but the republican majority is hopelessly split up on all the more important schedules. There is no guiding principle in arriving at a just conclusion on any of the questions under discussion.

The old democratic plan for fixing the revenue was to provide a tariff that would cover the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, but somehow the republicans have purposely abandoned this plan and listened to the appeals of special interests for high tariff duties that will bring increased burdens upon the American people and perhaps retaliatory tariffs by some foreign nations.

Even staunch republicans at the present time urge that it would be better to hold up the present measure and submit it to a tariff commission for scientific investigation and research, passing in the meantime a temporary measure that would serve until the fall of 1923. What is this but an acknowledgment that the whole question should be taken out of politics and submitted to a tariff commission made up of experts who could find the necessary data to guide them in fixing the various schedules.

Senator Frelinghuysen has introduced a bill to submit the tariff to a commission, which would be under the direction of the department of commerce and which would be an extension of the present tariff commission, provision for which was established in 1916. The fate of the tariff measure in the present congress and the aggravating delay which has brought such injury to the industries of the country offer sufficient argument in favor of passing some such measure as that proposed by Senator Frelinghuysen.

The revision of tariff schedules should come piecemeal as necessity requires and only after full investigation of the economic conditions to be met and not in the haphazard style followed in constructing the present tariff bill. The experience of the republican party in trying to push through the present bill should be sufficient to bring about a reform under which no similar spectacle would ever be presented to the world by the dominant powers in congress. The tariff should be taken out of politics now and forever.

Complaints have reached headquarters of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce that more than a few drivers of gasoline-propelled trucks on our highways need to be impressed with the importance of courtesy and careful driving on the highways. The committee has just sent out a letter to all its member manufacturers, who in turn are sending letters and pamphlets to their dealers with instructions to place the material in the hands of truck drivers and owners. The Sun is in receipt of a copy of the circular, and the advice is worth spreading to the farthest corners of the land. While truck drivers are not studied out as being solely to blame for numerous road tie-ups and blockades, some of them are responsible for blockades that are wholly unnecessary, as drivers of motor vehicles know from experience.

The N. A. C. C. committee urges that truck drivers as a whole be impressed especially with the necessity of permitting faster vehicles to pass them, with driving always at moderate speed, never taking chances, recognizing the rights of pedestrians and being especially careful about children playing in the streets and on the sidewalks.

"Driver discourtesy," says the committee, "must not be tolerated, as it creates public opinion antagonistic to highway transportation."

Some of the pointed bits of advice addressed to men who sometimes "hog the road" unnecessarily, are contained in the Chamber of Commerce educational circulars as follows:

"It is railroad practice to hand a freighter off on the siding to let the express go by. It is common sense. You are the freighter of the highway—the plowman, the worker, the money-maker—a part of the nation's commercial system of transportation. Don't forget the express—give him a chance!"

"You are operating over a finely built highway, your highway, and you have no share. But don't forget that the man in the car behind also has a share in it. There may be ten cars behind you all shareholders. Are you to be a friend or a foe? You alone can decide."

SEEN AND HEARD

Speeding

"I was in a hurry, judge," explained Albert Memmle, of Brooklyn when Magistrate Eliza was asked to sign him for speeding. "I was on my way to Milford by 9 o'clock." "Why did you want to get to Milford?" inquired the magistrate. "I've got to answer to a summons for speeding there," answered Memmle.

Tommy's Word

Today's word is stipend. It's pronounced at-ten-dend, with accent on the first syllable. The word is long and the word is short. It means—settled pay for services; wages, salary. It comes from the Latin stipendium, from stipis, a gift given in small coin, and pendis, to weigh or put out. It is used like this—"His weekly stipend was too small to meet expenses."

Nothing Doing

"Mandy, I think I've got to put on my new clothes and go down to the theater tonight to see do choros ladies dance."

"Rastus, listen here. If dat ain't what yuh thinks, then yuh'd better think up'n. Man, yuh ain't gwine put on nothin' to go no place no time to see nothin' do nothin' never, now, now, not at all. Does yuh understand?"—Nashville Tennessean.

A Bright Little Girl

The youngster who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stars as well as stripes has a notion in the little girl who wrote this description of the ark: "Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little ark rode proudly over the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."

Sam's Traveler

When James McLaughlin, ice cream and confectionery store proprietor of London, O., traveled south on a multi-trip for three and a half blocks a few days ago he crossed the Pennsy trucks for the first time in 42 years. His store is situated two blocks from his house and for 42 years his journeys have not carried him beyond those two points.

Science vs. Promises

"Which reaches you the quicker?" asked the clergyman, "light or sound?"

"Sound, sir," answered Tommy smartly.

"No, Tommy, that's not the right answer. Light reaches us first. If you watch a hand playing a good way off you'll see the drummer hit the drum a second or so before you hear the sound of it."

"Yes, sir, but sometimes sound does reach you first."

"Can you give me an example?"

"Yes, sir. The new church bell. Dad said this morning that we had been hearing about it for the last ten years, and wouldn't see it for the next 20."

Success

One spent his life in getting gold. Regardless of his health, And found when he was getting old, He had a store of wealth;

And daily he grew richer still, From coin quite secure, And everything was his will.

That money could procure.

The other lived from day to day, Without much thought of gain, Active alike at work or play,

A simple life and plain. With happiness filled to the brim

His cup was flowing o'er, The money he had never stored him—

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester will make a very strong contender for the gubernatorial nomination in this state. According to reports emanating from the heart of the commonwealth, Mr. Sullivan is a huge favorite in the central and western parts of the state. At the time of his election to the mayor's office, I was a resident of Worcester, and at that time he was conceded but small chance against such a strong opponent as the then mayor, John Holmes. He carried the city by an overwhelming majority, however, and has since won many municipal elections. His honor recently visited that he is confident of receiving a 5 to 1 vote in the western area, and regardless of the purported strength of John F. "Honey Fitz" Fitzgerald in the east, Mr. Sullivan expects a 50-50 break here. Being a vigorous campaigner and an optimist of the highest order, his political future will be watched with interest hereabouts.

Not to be outdone in modern improvements, the town of Braintree has inaugurated the one-way street system in the vicinity of Lakeview park. The narrowness of the approaches to the park has been a source of constant worry to motorists for some years past, but the new movement alleviates the difficulty to a great extent. The roads themselves have been somewhat improved, and now automobile springs will not suffer from the many holes which have been so annoying in the past. The one-way idea is regarded by town authorities and motorists alike as a very wise move toward improving traffic conditions at the lake.

An amusing incident is connected with an advertisement which appeared in a national magazine about a week ago. It was worded something like this: "If drinking men with red noses will communicate with us, we will suggest a permanent remedy for the affliction." A local man answered the ad just for fun and received the following reply: "Keep on drinking, my good sir, and your nose will eventually turn blue."

Some people think that all a policeman has to do is patrol his beat and ring in at the hours appointed. Recently I picked up the following self-explanatory note in the vicinity of the police station on Market street. It is a list of items which must be filled out every month by every policeman on the force and reads as follows: Persons arrested; cases of contagious diseases; sudden deaths; violation of liquor laws; buildings found open and secured; defective streets and sidewalks; fire alarm; second alarm; low children restored; value of stolen property recovered; gas lights not burning; incandescent lights not burning; electric lights out; teams put up and cared for; obstructions not lighted; obstructions removed; disturbances quelled. With the exception of the foregoing, the policeman has very little to do.

MILL HAZARDS AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

BY S. R. WHITING

Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. Maybe you saw the report of it in the papers? It happened several years ago and I forgot his name, but the shock killed him.

He was in a tannery vat with feet soaking wet and when he grabbed the electric lamp that someone lowered down to him, he immediately fell over dead. Anyhow you doubtless remember the philosopher way back in Ben Franklin's time who was flying a kite in a storm and the lightning came down the wet string and killed him. Ben Franklin did the same stunt, but he was more cautious and got only a few rappings on the knuckles. Since those pioneer days, hundreds, yes, thousands of lives have been lost through that invisible force we call electricity.

But why should the safety man worry about this matter? Isn't the electricity we are handling entirely different from lightning because its voltage is low and harmless? Aren't thousands, yes, millions of persons throwing switches on and off every day of their lives without the slightest injury? This is the fact indeed yet even today we find that every now and then someone gets a fatal electric shock. This is just why we need to consider this "mysterious power" somewhat carefully.

In the first place, electricity is no more a mystery than any of Nature's powers for we know just about as much of its laws and its effects as we do about gravity or heat. We know there is an electromotive force or pressure called "voltage" which tends to cause a flow of electricity just like water or gas pressure. This may be the six volts of a storage battery in your touring car, the 110 volts on the lighting circuit in your home, the 550 volts on your shop motor circuit or much higher voltages (2500 or more) on the electric light company's pole line.

Again we know when electricity is flowing (although we cannot see it any more than we can see gravity or heat) because it has certain effects: such as heating up the wires in a lamp or sparking when it jumps across an air gap in your touring car motor or magnetism in a field coil of a dynamo or decomposing chemicals in a vat or giving your body a "shock." We call this a "current of electricity" and measure it in "amperes" and talk about, say, 1/2 ampere flowing through a small lamp or 50 amperes and more on a large shop motor.

However, what safety men are most interested in the current flowing through our bodies when we get a shock. Now this is much smaller than an ampere (usually) so the doctors will talk about "milli-amperes" or thousandths of an ampere, and tell us that 100 milli-amperes (only 1/10 of an ampere) might cause a fatal shock.

"Gee," perhaps you are saying, "this cannot be so because I can get more than one ampere out of a single dry cell, but who ever heard of a person being killed by a dry cell?"

You are, but there is a reason for it, and the reason is on the resistance (called ohms) through which the current has to flow. Connect a copper wire across it and you get no spark at all. Your body has many thousands times as high resistance as the copper wire and so the current is many thousands times smaller. It is just like a water system where the pressure on the main will send only a small flow of water through a small size pipe, but a large flow through a large size pipe, which, you know, has lower resistance. If you shut off the valve, no water flows at all and if you open the electric circuit, no current flows. In both cases, you have infinite resistance and therefore zero current, yet the water pressure or head and the electricity pressure or voltage are still there, waiting for a chance to cause a flow.

Now to get down to brass tacks, the way for you to avoid a bad electric shock from I do not care what kind of apparatus you are handling, is to keep the resistance through your body always so high that little if any current can flow through it. The current has to make two contacts with your body, or you have an open circuit, and infinite resistance. You may say that is easy, and you will only one hand to touch the electrical parts, keeping the other hand in your pocket, but this will not save you. If your feet are on the ground, the current can sneak in through the one hand that is in contact with live parts, down your body and legs and out through your feet. This is because most any electric circuit is already connected to ground either through leakage in the ground wiring or by a grounded neutral wire which the lighting company is sometimes required to use.

Now the resistance to electric flow of the human body is an interesting thing because it is so variable. Perhaps the muscles and blood and nerves have fairly constant resistance (although you would expect a short fat man to have lower resistance than a tall thin man) but the surface contacts vary tremendously in resistance. If you have a thick skin and it is dry the resistance will be high, especially if

ROYAL WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN LONDON

LONDON, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—A wedding, second only in interest to the nuptials of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, took place this afternoon in St. Margaret's, Westminster, when England's richest heiress, Miss Edwina Ashley, married Lord Louis Mountbatten. The groom is a grandson of the late Queen Victoria, a cousin of King George and the closest friend and companion of the Prince of Wales, who was best man. They will spend their honeymoon in Spain as the guests of King Alfonso and later will go to America.

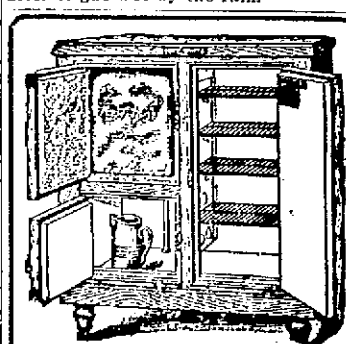

HELLO, BILL!

Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, waves his hat at the cheering crowd as he marches with the Elks at Atlantic City.

you touch the live part very lightly, and the same is true of your feet if they are dry and there are no nails in your shoes and you are standing on dry wood. The resistance would then be many thousands of ohms, and you would not get a fatal shock unless the voltage were very high—say several thousand volts. Now this is why so many men get shocks from trolley circuits or motor circuits (at, say, 550 volts) without anything more than a jolt and they will laugh at you if you say that men have been killed on such circuits.

Now do not let them fool you, because I know many a man who has been killed on 550 volts or lower, and it was not "because of a weak heart" either. Off hand, I remember three fatal shocks on trolley circuits, five fatal shocks on shop motor circuits, and six fatal shocks, if you please, on as low as 110 volts such as you find on every lighting circuit! The explanation is that the man had unusually low contact resistance at the time of shock, and therefore a large current flowed through his body. One man stood on a third rail and put his hand on the steel frame of the electric car; another was standing in water in a paper mill and took firm hold of a metal starting box lever; another was lying in a boiler, his clothes damp with sweat, and grabbed a "grounded" fan motor; another was sitting in a bath tub with wet hand on an electric vibrator. You see the contacts were all of low resistance because they were of large area or were damp, and you remember Ben Franklin showed how lightning would flow down a long cord of wire after it got wet by the rain.

Bertton Braley's Daily Poem

THE GAMBLER

I know that chance is statistical.
Will show you shouldn't marry
Until your honorarium
Is quite extraordinary.
But I am optimistic
About what love can do,
For in its sweet delirium
Most any dream comes true.

So, go ahead and marry her
Before you lose romance,
For love leaps every barrier
If you will take a chance.

Life's brief; you lose the fun of it
Unless you share together
Some seasons of frugality,
Some times of heavy weather.
Luck varies—face the run of it
And, spite of strain and stress,
You'll find that life's totality
Foots up to happiness!

So, go ahead and marry her,
Dull figures do not count—
There isn't any barrier
That love cannot surmount.

I know I'm preaching heresy,
So cautious folks repeat,
But if you have a salary
That's big enough to meet
Food, rent, and clothes, I swear I see
Small reason for delay,
Although the cynics' gallery
May have a lot to say.

So, go ahead and marry her,
Forget the cautious stuff,
For poverty's no barrier
If you have love enough!

Rathenau's Assassins Kill Selves

BERLIN, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Hermann Fischer and Edwin Kern, who for many days have been pursued by the German police as the assassins of the late Foreign Minister Rathenau, committed suicide today, according to a despatch from Hulla. The two men shot themselves, the despatch said, as they were about to be captured in the turret of Saalecke Castle, near Had Koesen, where they had been traced yesterday by the police.

Will Enter Insanity Plea

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Attorneys for Mrs. Clara Phillips, charged with the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, 20-year-old widow, who was beaten to death with a hammer, have stated their defense would be insanity. Yesterday, after the inquest Mrs. Phillips was permitted to see her husband. They fell into each other's arms and kissed many times. It was their first meeting since last Thursday morning.

Lawhorn Testifies Before Jury

BOSTON, July 18.—A special session of the Middlesex county grand jury was called today to consider further evidence in connection with the murder of Ralph W. Brewster, Boston & Maine station agent, who was killed in the Winchester depot last April. Among the witnesses before the grand jury was Private John Dewey Lawhorn of the Marine Corps, accused by John Tindall of having committed the crime. Tindall is an ex-marine and is said to be an acquaintance of Lawhorn.

GAS PLANT WRECKED BY TREMBLED ALL OVER BIG BLOWUP

SPRINGFIELD, July 18.—Big iron girders were torn from their stanchions and twisted, slabs from the roof of the building were blown hundreds of feet, and windows and skylights in the vicinity were broken and loosened by an explosion in the plant of the Springfield Gaslight company last night. The damage amounted to thousands of dollars. Fire followed the explosion, but this was quickly extinguished. No one was injured.

ENGLISH WOMEN CAN'T SEE JOKE

NEW YORK, July 18.—Mrs. Margaret Moraitis, an English woman who is on her way to her daughter, Mrs. Sappho Llewellyn, in San Francisco, is probably wondering just who the joke is on herself, or the immigration officials, who advised her to wait a week ago with $3000 in cash and $70,000 worth of deeds to property in Germany. Mrs. Moraitis was detained on Ellis Island until the authorities were convinced that she would not become a public charge.

Mrs. Moraitis said she had been told to conceal her wealth by burning it up because her property was in Germany and that Americans were so bitter because of the world war that she might be barred from the United States if the source of her wealth was known.

After hearing this statement, Mrs. Moraitis concealed her money and deeds in her clothing and tried her best to deceive the immigration authorities regarding her financial status without telling a falsehood.

"I have with me about $3000 for expenses," she said, "but after what I was told I was shy about telling of it. I could not satisfy the inquiry board, although I said I had plenty enough to live on. The officer said that I would not become a public charge. I don't know what they will think of me to get into this trouble with the immigration officials when I had plenty of money."

Mrs. Moraitis, whose family have been English for generations, said she was coming to the United States to spend the rest of her life with her daughter who married a world war veteran.

YOUNG WILD WEST IS BACK AGAIN

BANGOR, Me., July 18.—Harry B. Morgan, 17 years old, who works on a farm just outside the city, got the last of adventure in his veins and broke away from killing potato bugs and hoeing corn.

Harry, it appears, acquired in various ways a regular wild west outfit, including a sombrero, leggings, a short carbine, a revolver and several knives. According to the police he stole a saddle from one farmer, a bridle from another and a horse from E. A. Buel's stable, making off with the horse Sunday night.

Yesterday a farmer in Orrington reported that a young man who looked like a villainous outlaw had passed that way. Sheriff O. J. Fernandez and Deputy Sheriff John Farrar took up the trail in an automobile. They sighted Morgan and, running alongside, Sheriff Fernandez made a flying leap from the running board to Morgan's horse, but just missed and fell, being somewhat bruised.

Morgan put the spurs to his steed and the race was renewed for three or four miles. Morgan saw that he was likely to be caught, suddenly stopped, hid off the horse and put for the woods. Deputy Farrar soon overtook him. He will be given a hearing tomorrow. Those who know the young man say he must have gone crazy with the heat, mixed with movies. He has had a good reputation previously.

FRENCH MONK IS FOUND IN SPAIN

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Mortillac, the French monk reputed to have been the last lover of Mata Hari, the celebrated Dutch dancer who was executed by the French near the end of the war as a German spy, has been located in the Carthusian monastery at Cartuja De Miraflores, Spain.

Mortillac, who was prominent in French social circles, disappeared after a vain effort to save the woman about whom Vicente Blasco Ibanez wrote his war romance "Mare Nostrum."

While leading Carthusians deny that the monk has entered the order, it is affirmed in authoritative quarters that he is in the Spanish monastery attempting to bury his sorrow for his lost love. The woman also was known as Marguerite Zell.

Mortillac is said to have been heart-broken when he discovered that Mata Hari, who was famous for her beauty, was a German spy.

Afterward he learned that she had a husband, a Scottish officer, who married her in Java, taking her from a Buddhist temple, where she was a dancer, and that he died of grief in Scotland after he had discovered her in Paris and was unable to persuade her to leave a German to whom she had become attached.

Mortillac is said to have entered the monastery, in an attempt to expiate for his sins and to forget Mata Hari. He is said to be passing his time in prayer and fasting.

OBSERVE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shepard of 51 East Meadow road on Saturday was in the form of a reception which was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard received the best wishes of their friends and many appropriate gifts. Five children and 14 grandchildren were in attendance, and among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Carpenter of Haverhill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carpenter of Granville, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carr of Salisbury, John Shepard of Bridgewater and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fraser of Lexington. Musical numbers were given and luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have been residents of this city since 1866. They were married at the late Rev. A. M. Griffin, D.D.

"I would have attacks of indigestion, no matter how little I ate," says Mrs. Emma Showers, of No. 170 Glad street, Marion, Ohio, and would have terrible pains in my stomach. My tongue was coated and I had a bitter taste in my mouth. Some nights I couldn't sleep, I had such suffocating nervous spells. Sometimes I would tremble all over with nervousness. I had a dull headache and a soreness across my stomach.

"An article in a newspaper started me taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I could notice quite a difference after the first box. The attacks of indigestion were not as frequent nor as severe. After two more boxes I could see a great change. My nerves were stronger, the trembling stopped and I could get a good night's rest. I do not have the stomach pains at all now, I can eat anything I want and am stronger and better in every way."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are particularly useful in nervous dyspepsia because they build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and tone up the digestive organs. If your case is similar to that of Mrs. Showers you owe it to yourself to give the remedy a trial.

A booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," which tells about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

PEOPLE FLEE IN LEWISTON FIRE

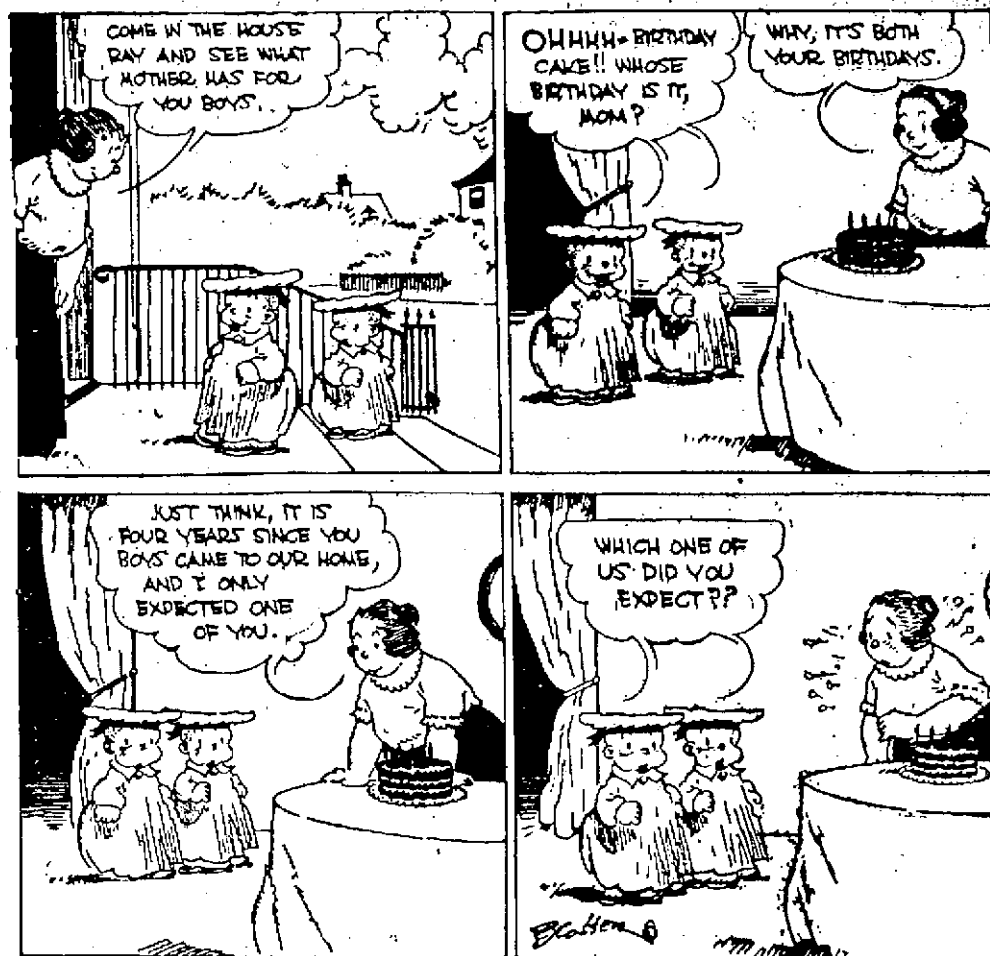

LEWISTON, Me., July 18.—A fire which broke out at 6 o'clock yesterday morning in a shed attached to the Vaughan block on Lisbon street, owned by the Thomas Vaughan estate, putted the building, and caused several of the tenants to hasten out in their night clothing to escape the flames.

Felix Gallipeau, an employee of the Lewiston Gas company, was aroused from sleep by smoke which was fast filling the room, and had barely time to awaken his wife and five children before the room was full of flame. An infant had a narrow escape from suffocation.

The Gallipeaus have recently moved here from Canada, and had a lot of new furniture, which was all destroyed without insurance. Leo Boucher, his wife and nine-month-old child also escaped with difficulty from the building. The building was fully insured, but only one tenant had any insurance.

TWO LARGE PURSES ON BIG TIME CARD

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 18.—Two $2000 purses were at stake in the Grand Circuit racing here today in the Celery City event for 2:18 trotters and the Burdick hotel fixture for 2:07 pacers. The former race was put over from yesterday. In addition three events worth $1000 each, were on the day's card. They were the 2:10 trot, in which 19 were named, the 2:17 pace which drew 13 and the Recreation park purse for two year old trotters.

Only one favorite, Leo Worthy, came through in the opening day's racing yesterday, winning the 2:12 trot. "Pop" Geers put over a long shot in Jack H., to win the 2:16 and John Henry upset the dopsters by beating Grace Direct in the 2:05 pace.

Bandits Killed From Ambush

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Eusebio Gorozave, the bandit leader, and one of his lieutenants, were shot and killed from ambush yesterday, according to advices from authentic sources in Tampico. A newspaper despatch from Tuxpan says the bodies are being brought to that city.

YOUTHS SENT TO JAIL FOR HOLDUPS

GREENFIELD, July 18.—Justice Burns in the superior court yesterday afternoon imposed sentences on four young men who had pleaded guilty to indictments returned by the grand jury last week. Leo Bergman of Dorchester and Chester Conger of Grand Rapids, Mich., who on May 28, held up Fred Tirrell, a local automobile salesman, and engaged him and stole his car, got one year each in the house of correction. Former Justice Edward L. Shaw of Northampton, Eugene B. Conger, father of Chester, and Rev. Chas. W. Merriam, a former Greenfield pastor, now of Grand Rapids, asked the court to let Conger return to his home but Judge Burns declined, in view of the prevalence of automobile stealing in the Connecticut valley. Carlos E. White of Winchendon, indicted for breaking into the railway station in Turners Falls, got six months in the house of correction, and Arthur Stevenson of Winchendon, N. H., for assault, got four months there.

Our Lowell-Made Ice Cream Is Sold On Its Merit Alone!

TO sell a product on any basis other than that of quality and value is an indication of its inability to sell on its merit alone. Therefore the Boston Ice Cream Co. has never attempted to push the sale of its ice cream in Lowell through any methods other than those sanctioned by high-grade business ethics.

We make our ice cream of the finest ingredients obtainable, and we sell it in large quantities to discriminating residents of Lowell, simply because it has become famous for its flavor and purity.

We have never found it necessary to offer premiums to the buying public in order to induce people to purchase our product. We are in the business of making and selling pure ice cream, and while artificial sales methods may obtain an occasional customer—quality and purity alone can hold his patronage.

We feel confident also that the fair-minded citizens of Lowell will frown on the propaganda now being published by certain of our competitors in an attempt to control the sale of ice cream in this city.

Our local plant is a Lowell institution where ice cream is made by Lowell people for Lowell people. For fifteen years we have been paying taxes to the City of Lowell and wages to its residents—amounting in all to many thousands of dollars.

We endeavor always to conduct our business in a way that is beyond criticism. Our product speaks for itself. We, therefore, seek the continued patronage of the residents of Lowell who buy their ice cream—or any other commodity—on the basis of quality and value.

Collins, Schalk, Faber Are White Sox Best Trio

When considering the most valuable player in the major leagues the Chicago White Sox have three entries. Eddie Collins, remarkable second sacker; Ray Schalk, brilliant catcher, and "Red" Faber, crack pitcher. Collins is the best second baseman of all times. Fifteen years of campaigning do not seem to have slowed him up in any department of the game. He is the key to the Chicago infield. No brainier player ever wore a spiked shoe. Ray Schalk is one of the greatest catchers in the history of the game. He is a fine receiver, uses uncanny judgment, and is the "pepper-pot" of the White Sox machine. "Red" Faber is bearing the brunt of the Chicago pitching burden. The veteran spitballer is having another mighty good year.

Fred Merkle's Blunder the Most Costly Ever Made

Usually failure to follow some simple rule of baseball produces the worst kind of blunder plays on the ball field.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, the failure to properly complete the play is not due to lack of knowledge, but rather to sheer carelessness on the part of some player.

Failure to touch a base is the easiest way to create a blunder play. As long as baseball is played players will continue to fail to touch the bases. In all probability the most costly blunder is soon forgotten. Otherwise the careless player goes down in history in the list of blunders.

PRATT, DUGAN BEST GRACE DIRECT FALTERS WITH BOSTON AT KALAMAZOO

There isn't much to get enthusiastic over at Boston. About the only nomination the Red Sox could offer in a most valuable player contest would be Derrill Pratt and Joe Dugan.

Perhaps no player on the club offers more promise than Dugan, or perhaps a greater punch.

Dugan is probably the best fielding third baseman in the American league. He has a fine pair of hands, is certain on a ground ball and has a great arm. He can kick the ball around and still get 'em at first.

At the last Dugan is hitting around the .260 mark and is constantly improving.

Derrill Pratt, a veteran, still plays a steady game in the field and is known as one of the hardest hitters in the game.

Peter Donahue Has Made Name For Self in Work with Reds

PETE DONAHUE

BY BILLY EVANS

Who is the best young pitcher that has broken into the National league in years?

There doesn't seem much doubt as to the answer to that question. Pete Donahue of the Cincinnati Reds is unanimously conceded the honor.

Few pitchers in the history of the game have met with the extraordinary success that has followed Donahue ever since he made his National league debut.

Three years ago Donahue was pitching for a small college team down in Texas and doing a mighty good job of it. His fame, however, was little known even in his own state.

Today Pete Donahue is one of the most talked about pitchers in the game. He is regarded as one of the stars of the National league.

Only recently Manager McGraw of the New York Giants caused the sporting spotlight to be focused on the young collegian from Texas. Said Manager McGraw:

"If Donahue were placed on the market I would willingly bid $100,000 for him. He is the best young pitcher that has broken into the National league in years. If the Giants had him the pennant would be clinched."

A Finished Pitcher
Recently while umpiring in New York I bumped into Billy Murray, famous for his league manager, and he told me that Donahue was a finished pitcher. Our conversation drifted to pitching and of the game. We started discussing the recruits, when Murray blurted out:

"That presentation caused the Cincinnati club to look like Santa Claus. This was followed by the offer of a nice bonus to Donahue for signing. Those two things spoiled any chance the St. Louis club had of getting one of the greatest pitchers I have ever seen. I packed my grip and left for home. That aut was just like Christmas to the Donahues."

"When you start talking about 'rookie' pitchers, this young fellow Donahue of the Cincinnati club has them all stopped. He is a finished pitcher right now and he hasn't been in the big league much over a year. As a matter of fact he was a finished pitcher when he broke in."

"This fellow Donahue has everything. He reminds you a bit of the late Addie Joss in build and delivery. He has speed, a fine curve and a beautiful change of pace. In Donahue the Cincinnati club has another Mathewson."

How Barrett Lost Him
The Cincinnati club acquired Donahue in a rather unusual manner. Charley Barrett, scout of the St. Louis Cardinals, was not on the trail of Donahue for Rickey. Here is the story Barrett tells of how he lost him:

"A nice new automobile was the turning point in the chase for Donahue. It seems the Cincinnati scout learned that the Donahue family had a longing for an automobile. He was instructed to present the Donahues with one."

WHITE SOX IN THIRD STRAIGHT

Defeat Yankees in 11 Innings and Are Now Only Breath From Top

Giants Say National League Leadership by Defeating Cardinals 3-2

NEW YORK, July 18.—Taking their third straight victory from the Yankees after 11 innings 8 to 7, the White Sox today were only 2½ games from the second place New York and entertaining strong pennant aspirations.

After a four-run rally, including homers by Hooper and Mostil apparently had sewed up the game in the eighth, the Yankees came back to tie the score in the ninth, only to see the White Sox put over the winning tally on plays in the 11th on Pinch Hitter Strunk's single. Babe Ruth clouted his 16th homer in the seventh.

The St. Louis-Washington game was stopped by rain in the third with the Senators ahead, 4 to 1, but the Browns had their lead increased to two games as a result of the Yankees' defeat.

Two Cubs' Specialists were prominent in their teams' victories, the Tiger leader clouting out five hits, including a homer, as his club trounced Boston, 16 to 3, while Cleveland manager's double and triple helped Uhle check Philadelphia, 5 to 0.

With their leadership of the National league race threatened, the Giants got to Bill Doak in the early innings for enough runs to take the third game of the series from St. Louis, 3 to 2, and increase their margin at the top to a game and a half.

Chicago's eighth inning rally beat Philadelphia, 3 to 2; Brooklyn returned to the west and dropped another game to Pittsburgh, 4 to 0, while Vance blew up in the eighth, when Daubert's triple and Pinelli's single, gave Cincinnati victory over Boston in the 10th, 8 to 7.

Leonard-Tendler Title Match a Question of Rights and Lefts

LEW TENDLER

BENNY LEONARD

(By Bob Dorman)
NEW YORK, July 18.—When Benny Leonard steps into the ring in Jersey City the night of July 27 against Lew Tendler, but one question is to be answered:

Can Leonard drop Tendler with rights to the head before Tendler down the champion with lefts to the stomach?

Tendler is the only lightweight in the ring today who stands a chance to dispose of the champion via the knee route.

He cannot be compared to Leonard as a boxer, but his awkward southern style of milling is hard to solve, and his wicked drives to the pit of the stomach have downed many a husky opponent.

Have Never Met
In ring tactics he has had almost as much experience as Leonard, though four years younger.

Starting at about the same time, both have come up from obscurity, Leonard achieving the title, Tendler because of various circumstances.

TIGER JACK MAY BOX IN BAY STATE

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, July 17.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, will be allowed to give exhibition bouts in Massachusetts as the result of a ruling today made by the Massachusetts boxing commission.

The commission, which has consistently refused to permit boxing in this state, again states that it will issue no fight permit until a challenge is made by one who has yet appeared, is presented to the public.

Under the present ruling Dempsey will give exhibition bouts only. Dempsey's manager is said to be arranging for such bouts.

Lawrence R. Rice of Longwood was the only star who found much difficulty in advancing in the singles yesterday. Fred C. Inman, for many years veteran of tournament play, faced Rice in an extra set before the latter was able to win the match.

The veteran romped off with the first three games but Rice took the next three only to lose the set, 6-2. By hard hitting Rice succeeded in winning the second and third sets, 6-0, 6-2.

SHEVLIN WINS BOUT FROM JACK PERRY
BOSTON, July 18.—Eddie Shevlin, appearing in the best condition of his career, defeated Jack Perry of Pittsburgh in a 10-round bout, the feature of an all-star program of fighting at the Boston Arena last night. A benefit for the disabled veterans of the World war. Judging from the gathering on hand, the veterans will receive a tidy sum.

George Robinson, after a hard up-hill battle, defeated Jack McCallan of Somerset in a 10-round bout, a benefit for the disabled veterans of the World war. Judging from the gathering on hand, the veterans will receive a tidy sum.

Denny Glynn stopped everything Charlie Parker threw at him and in the third round displayed good judgment by requesting the referee to stop the contest. His acute foresight saved him a desperate mauling. Parker was in great fighting condition and would have whipped a much stiffer opponent than Glynn proved to be.

Luque Is Most Defeated Pitcher

ADOLFO LUQUE AT THE WATER BOTTLE

Adolfo Luque, Cincinnati's Cuban pitcher, is leading all the hurlers of both major leagues—in defeats.

But Luque also is pretty near the leading hard-luck pitcher of the big show. He's pitching for a club that is batting mightily well this year and scoring a lot of runs. But the Reds seldom make runs for Luque.

So far (including games of Friday, July 1) Luque has lost 14 games and 12 of the 15 games which he has started. He has pitched for a club that has made 10 or fewer runs for him.

He has been shut out twice. His team has made only one run in five different games he has started. In five others his club made two runs for him.

All told, Luque has pitched 144 innings for the Reds this year and yielded 63 runs, an average of not quite four runs a nine-innings game. He has pitched eight games in which he held the other team to three or fewer runs a game, but of these he has won only one.

At the time these figures were computed only one National league pitcher—Leather of Brooklyn—had pitched more ball than Luque, and Reuther had worked just one more inning. Six American league pitchers had tossed more innings at that time, but none of them was close to Luque's record of 144 defeats.

Batting is not the only place in which the Reds have failed Luque. He has been taken from the box a few times this year and the game gone into the records as a knockout against him when he would have struck it out and probably have won had not his mates booted the ball behind him or missed catches that went for hits.

Luque's pitching record for the season is interesting. What has happened in each of the Cuban's 18 starts is here given:

April 13—Knocked out in eighth inning by Chicago; Reds made only one run.
April 17—Beaten by Pittsburgh, 1 to 0.
April 22—Beaten by Chicago, 3 to 1.
April 27—Knocked out by Pittsburgh in eighth, but given credit for an 8 to 5 victory.

May 1—Knocked out by Pittsburgh in seventh and beaten, 7 to 5.
May 5—Beaten by St. Louis, 3 to 2.
May 10—Knocked out and beaten by Boston. Left the game in seventh inning with score 5 to 2 in Boston's favor.

May 14—Beaten by Brooklyn, 6 to 5.
May 20—Won from Philadelphia, 2 to 1, in 10 innings.
May 24—Beaten by New York, 2 to 1, in 10 innings.

May 28—Knocked out by Chicago in fourth and beaten before Reds had scored a run.
June 1—Won from Chicago, 6 to 1.
June 7—Defeated Brooklyn, 6 to 2.
June 11—Defeated by New York, 2 to 1.

June 15—Knocked out in seventh and defeated by Phillies, 7 to 2.
June 21—Defeated Pittsburgh, though forced to retire with a lame arm at end of fifth with score 4 to 1 in Cincinnati's favor.

July 2—Defeated by St. Louis, 2 to 1.
July 7—Defeated by Philadelphia, 3 to 1.

ALLIES MAY CUT REPARATIONS

Germany May Not Have to Pay Full Debt if Plans Go Through

Britain Would Cancel the French Debt—Hope for Loan in U. S.

PARIS, July 18. (By Associated Press.)—The reduction of the German indemnity to 50,000,000 gold marks from the present total of 132,000,000,000 and the cancellation of the French debt to England is the basis of a solution of the reparations question now being seriously discussed by French and British officials.

It is expected the proposal will be discussed in the forthcoming meeting of Premier Poincaré and Lloyd George.

The suggested solution has the hearty support of British officials. French officials, so the Associated Press has been reliably informed, are looking with more and more favor upon the plan, provided it carries with it a clean-cut pledge of assistance in time of attack and assures France the allotment, wholly or in part, of England's 22 per cent. share of the total indemnity. It is believed England is ready to concede virtually all these demands.

The British decided to push the plan when it was definitely determined that the United States was not in a mood to discuss cancellation of the allied debt. It was learned yesterday. Supporters of the scheme hope America will follow the lead after she has had the chance to observe the good which may result from even a partial writing off of the war debts.

It is thought the mark would be stabilized, business confidence restored and Germany, with a colossal indemnity, would be bound to find means of payment.

The proposal has strong advocates in its reparations commission. It is announced today. Advocates point out that its adoption would have the effect of calling together the committee of international bankers, who would probably arrange a loan large enough to insure reparation payments for several years.

The plan would call for a moratorium for the remainder of this year's cash payments, the Associated Press learns, experts taking the view that Germany probably would be able to balance her budget by January, providing she is relieved of payments until that time. Acceptance of the proposed adjustment by France, advocates explain, would have the effect of placing all the allies, including Great Britain and the United States, firmly behind France, in the collection of the reparations account.

SHOULD LOWER PRICE OF MILK BY CENT

BOSTON, July 18.—District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien stated yesterday that as a result of an investigation which two of his assistants had made, throughout the milk producing regions of New Hampshire, Vermont and northern New York he was of the opinion that the price of milk should have been reduced one cent a quart in Boston on July 1. Instead of having risen one cent, he said that, according to his information the farmers never had been in possession of so much fodder for their cattle and it would be unnecessary for them to feed any grain before fall.

The district attorney proposes to sit the changes of excess prices for milk both from the producers' and distributors' standpoint.

TO INVESTIGATE

MANCHESTER, Vt., July 18.—The body of Allison Gregory, 19 years old, was found yesterday lying by a lonely road on the Gertrude C. Ritter estate with a bullet wound near her heart. A revolver lay beside her. The girl's home was only a few minutes' walk from the scene. Her father is superintendent of the Ritter estate. A passing autoist sighted the body. Officials were notified and Attorney General Francis Archibald arranged for an autopsy this afternoon to determine if possible, the cause of the girl's death.

SUGGESTS COAL RESERVE FROM SOUTH CAROLINA TO MAINE

Woman Sends for Relief

BOSTON, July 17.—The suggestion that New England manufacturers begin to build up a coal reserve was made today in a statement by Howard Conoley, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on commercial and industrial affairs.

Mr. Conoley said that although there was now no shortage, "prompt action in ordering a reasonable future supply might save our industries from being caught in the fall fuel jam."

"A full million tons of West Virginia bituminous coal are stated to be available at a floating wharfing shipment," the statement said. "If this is not called for in New England, it may be sent elsewhere."

SUPT. DOHERTY IS PUT BACK

Reinstated Board of Public
Service Holds Interesting
Meeting

Doherty's Removal Illegal—
Settles Question of Hiring
and Firing of Men

The board of public service yesterday afternoon reinstated Harry P. Doherty as superintendent of streets for the expressed reason that, in its mind, he had never been legally removed—or, in other words—that he had been illegally removed by a vote taken at the time when Messrs. Cloutier and MacKenzie were serving as temporary members of the board.

Supt. Doherty's reinstatement came during the first meeting of the old board composed of Messrs. Murphy, Leary and Havers since the reinstatement by the city council of the two first named after a public hearing had been held on the mayor's removal charges. The reinstatement of the superintendent was a most matter of fact action, entirely devoid of any flourish or prologue. Chairman Murphy simply stated that the board would reinstate Mr. Doherty for the reason that he had been removed from the superintendency illegally and it was so done.

To Remove Duties at Once

The superintendent was instructed to remove his work at once, and the city engineer, as secretary of the board, was instructed to notify the city auditor of the board's action.

In connection with or, at least, closely related to Mr. Doherty's return to his former station, Chairman Murphy settled one or two points relative to how the work of the department coming under the board shall be carried on.

Engineer to Lay Out Work

For instance, he told Engineer Stephen Kearney to lay out all the work for Supt. Doherty to do, and disposed of the question of hiring men for the street or water departments by instructing the two superintendents to submit all requisitions for new help to the engineer, who, in turn would present them to the board. As to discharging men, that will be handled entirely by the engineer and superintendents in departments.

When it comes to the purchase of all materials and supplies, except as fall under a contract, they shall be requisitioned for only by the city engineer, as secretary of the board and only on authorization by the board.

Asphalt Paving by Contract

A proposal to furnish and lay sheet asphalt and asphaltic concrete or Toplek paving in the city was submitted by the Birmingham Construction Co., through its treasurer, Chester B. Williams. The proposal quoted a price of $1.10 per square yard, sheet asphalt was quoted at $9 per ton and with a top course, $12 per ton. In all instances the city is to prepare the street foundation and grade.

The board considered and discussed the proposal at length, including the attached specifications which are those of the state highway commission, but reserved its decision until today, when it will again meet Mr. Williams. In the meantime, the city collector will be asked to look over the proposal and agreement submitted by the Birmingham Co. and straighten out, or direct the board in the legal course to pursue.

Inasmuch as the Birmingham Co. submitted the lowest bid early in the spring at a time when all bids turned in were rejected by the board, proper action at this time is a thing the board is willing to leave to the direction of the collector. It will be recalled that this company brought injunction proceedings to prevent a second batch of bids being opened by the city. The bids were opened, however, but no award made. Out of the two calls, Amelio developed and now is being laid in Westford street.

Meeting in Detail

The board met at 4 p. m. with all members present.

The widow of Israel Nunnlee, 123 Railroad street, complained of the small amount of her last water bill and after discussion it was voted to allow her an abatement of $15.

The superintendent of water works was authorized to grant permission to the N. Y. N. H. and H. railroad to repair the spur track running to the Wimping station in the Halo's brook district.

J. Gurney of the Inter-City Trust asked a postponing of sewer extension at the Boulder and was assured that the work would be commenced before the first of August.

Pole Orders Approved

Permission was granted the L. E. I. Corp. to abandon one pole in Bridge street near Third street and to erect two poles in Third street near Beacon. The White Way extension in East Merrimack street, embracing 27 new ornamental poles, also was officially approved. Permission also was granted to erect two poles in Exeter street and to relocate a pole in Lennox street.

Supt. Gardner was authorized to have the Bennington Scale Works repair two scales condemned by the city engineer. One is at the West Sixth street pumping station and the other at the Boulevard station.

The proposal of the Framingham Construction Co. was brought up at this time. During the discussion it was brought out that the company will furnish a pug mill mixing plant, capable of mixing either asphalt or asphaltic concrete.

The board had no objection to a request submitted by the local street railway that it be allowed to take out the turn-out in Broadway near School street.

Set Date For Hearings

It was voted to hold hearings on the petition on the evening of July 27 and to take in view of the places covered thereby in the afternoon.

Chairman Murphy read a letter from M. J. Sharkey, submitting a proposition to sell the city a gravel bank in

REMEMBERED BY MEN

Police Patrolmen Present
Useful Gift to Capt. David
Petrie as Mark of Esteem

Nothing pleases a man more than to know that he is held in high esteem by his fellow-workers, and last night Capt. David A. Petrie, who was recently transferred from the night police desk to the criminal investigation bureau, was shown how his associates at the station regard him. He was presented with two comfortable Morris chairs and a beautiful art square with Patrolman Edward Flannagan making the presentation.

The affair took place in the guard room at the time the day and night shifts were together and was a complete surprise for Captain Petrie. Officer Flannagan stated that the men appreciated all the favors that the captain had done for them and that they wished to express the feeling that existed between them. He also said that while the men were very glad of his promotion, they were sorry to see him leave the end of the department.

Captain Petrie was quite affected by this show of appreciation and in reply said that his 11-months' work as night captain was one of the most pleasant periods of his life. By his conduct the officers he learned of the good traits and added that he would always cherish the remembrance.

He said that he was only emulating Superintendent Atkinson in his treatment of the men and it was a great source of pleasure to see that the men appreciated his work to such a degree. He closed his talk by saying that he was sure that the men would show the same co-operation to his successor and would continue to co-operate with himself in his new duties. A lasting co-operation of this kind, he said, between superior officers and the men would insure the best of service for the people and would give mutual satisfaction and service to all.

On request of the city engineer, the stones have been trucked to the jobs and a bill covering this hauling has been submitted. PROPOSED ENTRANCE TO NEW HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC HOME

The campaign of the Lowell High School Alumni association for raising funds for acquiring and equipping a permanent athletic field for the boys and girls of the Lowell high school starts Wednesday (tomorrow) at the rooms of the chamber of commerce, 508 Fairbank building, and will be in charge of a committee of representative men and women of Lowell, of which Bennett Silverblatt is chairman. The committee consists of the following:

Bennett Silverblatt, chairman; Edward M. Trull, secretary; Abel R. Campbell, Xavier A. DeLella, Thomas P. Garvey, William A. Hogan, Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dennis J. Murphy, Elmore L. MacPhie, Frank McGilly, Harry G. Pollard, Arthur D. Prince, Dr. James H. Hooney, A. Huchlan, Parker, Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Gen. Gardiner, Peter, John W. Sullivan, Fred N. Wier, Max Goldman, John J. Pickman, Charles McIntyre, James P. Roane, Robert F. Marden, Elias McQuade, John Jacob Rogers, Charles H. Allen, Avlerion Soufras and George E. King.

Mrs. Louis Olney, Mrs. Patrick Ryan, Mrs. Edward M. Murphy, Mrs. William B. Bryant, Mrs. Pierre N. Brunelle, Miss Alice Lee, Miss Esther Zieklind. The committee plans a thorough and energetic campaign among the alumni and friends of the school in Lowell and elsewhere, to raise as speedily as possible the money needed to purchase and equip Spaulding park and the adjoining land in time for high school athletics in the fall.

To do this it is absolutely necessary that funds be made immediately available as the work of erecting the required building and putting the grounds and annex in shape will require considerable time.

It is planned to raise a minimum of $32,000. The headquarters are in charge of two permanent secretaries, assisted by a number of young ladies from the high school, who have provided for the physical development of both boys and girls and the interest of athletic teams. The association has had in mind in all its endeavors the welfare of all the pupils of the school.

The building site committee held many meetings and looked at a number of possible sites for a field. At a subsequent meeting of the alumni the committee recommended the acquiring of Spaulding park and adjoining property belonging to the estate of Edward Cawley.

The committee was thereupon authorized to enter into negotiations tending to the purchase of that property. They have secured from the owners both tracts of land and the right to purchase the property in question. Spaulding park, so-called, containing about 5 1/2 acres, and the Cawley land adjoining, containing about 9 1/2 acres. The total area of the land which is to be purchased at once is approximately 15 acres.

Spaulding Park is admirably designed for the uses in which the association purposes to put it. For many years it was used as the grounds for the Lowell baseball team in the old New England league. The committee in its investigations found the soil at render it an important and lasting service and every person should avail himself of the splendid opportunity offered and be counted "present." Don't be marked "absent."

The committee has adopted the following slogan for the campaign, "The Lowell high school expects you to do your duty."

The committee which secured the Spaulding Park site for the proposed athletic field was composed of Bennett Silverblatt, chairman; Charles H. McQuade and Edward W. Trull. Some six weeks ago a meeting of the alumni was called to start a movement for the securing of an athletic field for the benefit of all the pupils of the high school, both boys and girls. From the very start, this factor was given the strongest emphasis—that the field was to be for the physical development of both boys and girls and the interest of athletic teams.

The association has had in mind in all its endeavors the welfare of all the pupils of the school.

The building site committee held many meetings and looked at a number of possible sites for a field. At a subsequent meeting of the alumni the committee recommended the acquiring of Spaulding park and adjoining property belonging to the estate of Edward Cawley.

The committee was thereupon authorized to enter into negotiations tending to the purchase of that property. They have secured from the owners both tracts of land and the right to purchase the property in question. Spaulding park, so-called, containing about 5 1/2 acres, and the Cawley land adjoining, containing about 9 1/2 acres. The total area of the land which is to be purchased at once is approximately 15 acres.

Spaulding Park is admirably designed for the uses in which the association purposes to put it. For many years it was used as the grounds for the Lowell baseball team in the old New England league. The committee in its investigations found the soil at the park to be of an excellent quality because of the sandy condition of the subsoil, making it possible for the surface to dry up quickly after a storm.

The site chosen by the committee is the most available to the centre of the city of any tract which would answer the purpose of the association. It is on a direct line of street railway double tracks extending almost from the Lowell school at one end of the city to the present park at the other. It is also on one of the main state highways leading to Boston, making it easily available to motorists and, in fact, to the entire general public.

First Street Oval

The First Street oval which had been suggested many times as an ideal place for the high school athletic field was under consideration by the alumni association, but was rejected by the building site committee for three reasons: In the first place, the area is too small to answer the purposes of this school, secondly the oval was bought by the city from the Look and Cawley for the use of the public in general and therefore cannot be used exclusively for the school and third, under existing laws it would be impossible to charge admission fees. For these and other reasons the committee found it impractical to consider the oval as a serious possibility.

The athletic field movement has the cordial support of the school committee and park commission whose members are anxious to aid and co-operate in every possible way in the development of the proposition.

Alumni Will Hold Title

The title of the property will rest in the Lowell High School Alumni Association, and this organization will develop it to meet the requirements of present and future uses of the high school.

The fence around the present park and the grandstand and bleachers, are in poor state of repair and will have to be restored. This restoration has been included in the committee's recommendations to the association.

Below is a brief financial tabulation which shows in a nutshell just what is to be done with the funds to be raised by the Alumni for the new field:

Land to be acquired at once:

Spaulding Park $7,500

Cawley land adjacent, 6,400

Total cost of land..... $13,900

Restoration of fences, grandstand, bleachers, in Spaulding Park 7,200

Buildings to include lockers, toilet facilities, heating apparatus, shower baths, 10,000

Contingent fund 1,900

Grand total $32,000

Urge Brick or Cement

This table the committee recommends as a conservative estimate to place the ground in condition for immediate use. The committee further recommends that the building containing locker rooms, etc., be of permanent construction, either of brick or cement, so that it will be of lasting character.

As soon as funds are made available, a building committee from the alumni of the school will be elected to have full charge of the development of the property, having in mind the needs of both boys and girls. The grounds will be kept in first class condition at all times and not be allowed to run down or deteriorate.

It is intended to develop the field not only for baseball and football but also to construct a running track, tennis courts and possibly a hockey rink in the lower level to be used for ice sports. It is also planned to purchase movable bleachers to afford facilities for spectators at football games.

Up to the present time there have been practically no facilities for athletics for the boys of the high school. Spaulding park had no shower or locker facilities, so that the boys were compelled to use the annex in Paige street after their contests. There has been no place for practice within easy reach of the school where proper facilities were available. With the proposed dismantling of Spaulding park there would be no enclosed area for the conduct of high school athletic activities and it would have meant practically the abandonment of outdoor high school athletics.

The movement of the Alumni association is designed not only to provide a suitable field but to put the school's athletic program on a substantial basis, first, by supplying a proper field for its development; second, by encouraging supervision of all athletics, and third, to stimulate interest and attendance in high school contests.

Plan To Let Grounds

It is also apparent that if Spaulding park were dismantled there would really be no enclosed area for playing baseball or football by any means, but with the acquisition of the proposed field the association could let it, when not being used by high school teams and thereby derive revenue for the maintenance of the grounds.

It is intended to have a plan made showing the possible future development of the property. It is also planned that the various classes which are to be graduated in the future will have an opportunity to donate funds for the continued development of the field. In the coming drive, donations will be credited to the classes of the contributors, dating back to 1890 and coming down to this year's class. It is hoped to stimulate rivalry between the classes. Not only the alumni but all friends of the school, both of this city and out of town, are asked to take part in the campaign.

Where To Send Donations

Contributions may be sent directly to Edward W. Trull, treasurer of the association, at the clerk's office in the district court building in Market street, or may be left at any of the following banks: Wameet National bank, Appleton National bank, Old Lowell National bank, Union National bank, Lowell Trust Co., and Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

Attention is called to the coupon accompanying this article, which should be filled out and sent either to Mr. Trull or to one of the banks mentioned above. All cheques should be made payable to Edward W. Trull, treasurer. Be sure and state the class with which you were graduated.

Those who intend to contribute are asked to do so as soon as possible, as it is desirable to get the field in shape without delay.

Fight Now Centered

Boston Elevated Will Operate Lines Regardless of "Jits" for Present

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, July 18.—The jitney warfare, which for the present is situated in Malden, but which is likely to spread to every part of the state at a moment's notice, as far as the state house is concerned today after a skirmish that was more intense than anything yet staged.

In Malden, jitneys took up a line of travel after the street car line was given it up. The jitneys made money and the roads announced that they would again operate cars if the jitney license was suspended. A long fight was anticipated at the state house when suddenly the railroad, the Boston Elevated, announced today that it would operate cars at once without the jitneys giving up.

This on the face of the matter would seem to indicate that Malden will have both the street car lines in question and the "jits." Malden will—but probably only till November.

Joseph Hart, the operator of the jitneys, says that five of the seven aid men in Malden and 10 of the 21 common councilmen have promised to vote in support of the road. If the road starts its service they will not renounce Hart's license in November.

These men have sold out months before my license is up for renewal," said Hart. "I am going to continue to run in Malden, even if I have to go to jail. I am running jitneys in that city at the present time and take in 3,000,000 passengers a year. I am giving a fine for five cents (the road charges to me) and I am going to continue to get the ride."

The case before the public utility state house started when persons objecting to the Hart jitneys engaged the distinguished lawyer, G. Mayberry, to fight Hart. Attorney Mayberry has dropped the case of "clients now" that the road has volunteered to resume service.

The case has divided Malden in two sections and the Montauk and Carleton declare they will carry on a feud without compromise. The jitney street car warfare will, of course, be prominently in coming election. In the meantime the Hart jitney has spread to surrounding cities and towns. Some have admitted it service where the railways have frankly given up street car service.

Melrose, which adjoins Malden, has been holding public meetings discussing the advisability of letting the Hart jitneys come into the city. Hart proposes the city long ride for half the street railway will charge. Components of the Hart system in Melrose say that if he can get the street cars will have to leave the city permanently and Melrose, like Gloucester, will be entirely served by jitney with no street car lines. In Gloucester the street car rails are rusty and overgrown. The big fishing centre goes along its way with volumes of trade and thousands of summer residents depending alone on automobiles, taxis and jitneys.

Other cities in the eastern part of the state are chaffing under the jitney street railway fares and looking with some degree of approbation on the jitneys and it is safe to predict that the near future the public utilities, as well as local city and town authorities, will have to make many decisions.

Rotarians Bring Joy to Hundreds of Children

TRUCKS LOADED WITH CHILDREN ON WAY TO OUTING GROUNDS

Old Sol smiled serenely from his altitudinous abode this morning, local Rotarians counter-smiled in acquiescence and 436 children from five Lowell orphanages were made happy on this, the occasion of their second annual outing at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro.

It was a holiday of superlative proportions from the moment the 83 automobiles left the Ayer home in Pawtucket street and chugged and purled their way in parade formation through the down-town streets, until the objective was reached, where many features of the busy day were carried out.

Children from the French orphanage, St. Peter's orphanage, the O'Leary and Ayer homes and the Day Nursery were present under the watchful eye of the elder guardians. As many as could be accommodated were placed in trucks, while others were taken in touring cars.

MASSACHUSETTS STRIKE

Unions Claim More Than 1000 Hands are Out—No
Word From Mill

Following a meeting of the unions represented among the strikers at the Massachusetts mills, held in Trades & Labor hall at 10 o'clock this morning, a statement was issued to the effect that the entire organized force of the mills was out this morning and a number of unorganized employees had come out also. This raises the number of strikers, according to the publicity committee, to more than 1000. In fact, they feel that the number exceeds that total.

The organized employees at the mill are as follows: Slasher-tenders, 100 per cent.; loomfixers, 100 per cent.; beamers, 100 per cent.; ring spinners and fixers, 100 per cent.; card room, 75 per cent.; and weavers, 90 per cent.

These union members attended the mass meeting this morning to arrange plans for the conduct of the strike in conjunction with that now in existence at the Hamilton and Bay State mills.

A strategic board was appointed

15-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNED AT MUNICIPAL BATHING POOL

John Campbell's Cries for Help Were Not Taken Seriously and He Went Down 50 Feet From Shore—Was Endeavoring to Reach Diving Raft and Became Exhausted

John Campbell, aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of 32 Chapel street, was drowned this forenoon at the municipal bathing pool in the Merrimack river. The body was recovered about 50 feet from shore by the police, using grappling irons.

At about 9:30 o'clock the lad was in the water with a companion and is thought to have started to swim out to the diving raft. Other young boys were nearby, but when they heard his cries for help they did not take them seriously and he sank before anyone could reach his side. His companion succeeded in reaching the raft, but was so thoroughly exhausted that he had to be taken to shore in a boat.

The city life guards do not report for duty until 11 a. m. and as a result no other person was at the pool when the accident occurred.

The police arrived at the pool, with pumpboat and grappling irons, shortly after the fatality had been reported, but when the lad's body finally was recovered, it had been in the water too long a time and artificial resuscitation proved fruitless.

Besides his father and mother the boy is survived by three brothers and three sisters. He was graduated from St. Peter's school last month and was to enter Boston college high school in the fall.

THE HAGUE, July 18. (By the Associated Press.)—At a plenary session of the non-Russians today it was decided to grant the Russian request for a joint meeting on the distinct condition that it would be only for the purpose of presenting new proposals.

MANDAMUS IN ABEYANCE

Written Arguments to Be Presented to Judge Crosby on Thursday

Statements of facts in the petition for a writ of mandamus brought by Albert J. Blazon to compel Mayor Brown, the members of the city council and the board of assessors to recognize him as an assessor, were filed with Justice Crosby at this morning's session of the supreme judicial court held in Boston. The statements were presented by Albert S. Howard of New Bedford and City Solicitor E. J. Tierney, who represents the various officials involved. It was expected that Justice Crosby would hear the arguments in the case today, but, instead, he requested that briefs containing legal arguments be filed with him within the next two days.

The case was first called shortly after 10:30 o'clock, City Solicitor Tierney not arriving at that time and Mr. Howard requested that the case be put over until Mr. Tierney's arrival and the request was granted. Mr. Tierney put in an appearance shortly before 11 o'clock.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN AND STOCK

Spectacular Blaze in No. Chelmsford Razes Barn of Charles Carkins

Horse, Hay, Farm Implements and Hens Lost in the Flames

Dunstable road was the scene of a spectacular blaze around 11 o'clock last night when the barn of Charles Carkins was destroyed by fire. Mr. Carkins had just stored five tons of hay in the barn and this was a total loss. A tractor, a complete equipment of farming tools, several hens and a valuable horse also were lost.

The occupants of the farm house, which is 100 feet from the barn, were aroused by the barking of the dog and when they arrived at the barn, the center of it was a mass of flames. Mr. Carkins rushed in to lead the horse out but due to the excitement the horse became balky and kicked him, severely bruising him about the body. A doctor was called and dressed the wounds.

Mr. Carkins struck the task, however, and got the horse as far as the door, when he dropped. The flames had become so fierce by this time that it was impossible to get to the horse again and he was burned.

The North Chelmsford fire department was called and made a rapid run to the fire. When they arrived, Chief Joseph D. Ryan saw that the barn was doomed and had his men protect the house. The barn and the fixtures were a total loss.

President Asks for Protection in Operation of Coal Mines

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Harding late today will send simultaneously telegrams directing the operators of all bituminous mines shut down because of strike conditions to resume operation at once and requesting the governors of the states in which the mines operate to furnish such military protection as may be needed. If state troops find it impossible to cope with the situation, federal troops, it was understood, may eventually be employed.

Plans for such action by the president were understood to have received the unanimous support of the cabinet at its meeting today, at which the industrial situation was discussed in all its ramifications. The advice to the mine operators and the governors will point out the imperative necessity for early resumption of the mining industry in the interest of the public and also will urge that orderly procedure be observed in the execution of the plan.

Prediction was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that President Harding's invitation to the bituminous operators to return to their properties and resume operation would result in no appreciable increase in the production of coal.

SHOPMEN REACH AN AGREEMENT

40,000 Employees of Pennsylvania Road Treat With Employers

New Rates of Pay Effective July 16—140,000 Men Involved

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The Pennsylvania railroad announced today that a wage agreement has been negotiated between representatives of the shopmen still employed by the company and representatives of the management, affecting more than 40,000 men.

The company had previously announced wage agreements with representatives of maintenance of way employees, signal department men and clerks and miscellaneous forces, affecting the shopmen, 140,000 men on the system. The new rates of pay in each case are effective as of July 15 instead of July 1, as previously announced.

The new schedule of wages differs in some respects from the rates established by the labor board for other railroads. The announcement said, "but the difference is in favor of the Pennsylvania employees. For the most part, the Pennsylvania system rates are graded in accordance with skill and experience required and the prevailing rates are generally higher than those established for other railroads."

CHICAGO, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—With peace negotiations seemingly at a standstill, new disorders in the railway strike today called out Georgia state troops.

Waycross, Ga., and a fresh Illinois regiment was mobilized to replace troops at Bloomington and Clinton, Illinois.

Railway executives were said to have conferred with board members again today and the Federated Shopcraft executive council went into conference with B. M. Jewell, its president, to discuss the further developments of yesterday's discussions between several railroad presidents and Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the labor board.

PREMIER LENINE REPORTED DEAD

Was Poisoned on a Train While Journeying to Bathing Resort

LONDON, July 18 (by the Associated Press).—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Stockholm today quotes a correspondent as saying he has been reliably informed that Premier Lenin of soviet Russia has been murdered.

The correspondent says he believed the soviet premier was poisoned on a train while journeying to a Caucasian bathing resort. The assassination is attributed to representatives of radical communists now in power in Moscow. The correspondent was informed that Premier Lenin's body was thrown into a river on the morning of July 17. It was said one of Premier Lenin's attendants, a member of the executive committee of the third international, reported as an accomplice in the assassination, is impersonating the soviet premier at a bathing resort.

FIVE ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

Biggest Gathering of Apparatus Since Equitable Building Fire

Three Men Seen Bringing Boxes From Pushcart Into Building

Explosion Follows Few Seconds After They Came Out, Says Witness

NEW YORK, July 18.—A series of explosions caused by a fire wrecked a six-story warehouse in Greenwich Village today, killed two persons, one a fire lieutenant, seriously injured more than a score of persons, shattered windows for blocks and drove hundreds from their homes in neighboring tenements.

At 10 o'clock more than an hour after the first blast occurred intermittent explosions continued filling that section of the city with fumes and smoke. Five fire alarms had brought to the scene the greatest array of fire apparatus turned out since the Equitable building fire.

"Smoky Joe" Martin, acting fire chief, told Mayor Hylan that the explosions were the worst he had experienced in his many years in the department.

Many injured

The warehouse, where it was believed chemicals or powder caused the blasts, had great holes torn in the walls, and tons of bricks, stone and packages of goods were hurled onto

CLEANING UP FLOODED MERRIMACK RIVER CHICOPEE AREA

CHICOPEE, July 18.—With the work of cleaning up the flood-stricken district of Williamsett well under way, chief interest turned today to the task of fixing responsibility for the conditions that allowed the bursting of the dams at Langwold's and Roberts' ponds, early yesterday, releasing millions of gallons of water on the sleeping village, with property loss estimated at half a million dollars.

Organized relief agencies including Chicopee municipal departments and the Red Cross, are continuing the work begun yesterday.

Mayor M. Grise said he would leave the task of tracing the blame, if any exists, for the conditions at the dam, wholly in the hands of City Solicitor Mayo.

Engineers' Report Against Plan of Development Sent Out Again

The chamber of commerce has given out copies of the recent report of the army engineers at Washington on the proposed development of the Merrimack river. The substance of this report (which was issued May 8) has already appeared in The Sun. It estimates that the cost of the sections below and above Ward Hill would be as follows:

Total $11,691,478.00

Col. E. E. Winslow, in submitting the report makes the following comment:

In his revised report on the Merrimack river, Mass., the cost of providing an 18-foot channel from the sea to Haverhill, just below Lowell, would be $12,152,168.32, exclusive of such collateral costs as ditches, changes in bridges, etc. The estimated amount to be furnished by the United States is placed at $4,076,054, approximately.

The area to be served by the proposed improvement contains a number of large communities with intensive industrial development. In the aggregate, the receipts and shipments from this territory are very large, but economic conditions would necessitate the continued shipment of most of this material by rail even if provisions were made for 17-foot navigation. The shipments which might seek the water route are believed to be inadequate to warrant the large expenditures involved.

In view of the above, I concur with the district engineer that the Merrimack river is not worthy of improvement to the extent proposed.
E. E. WINSLOW,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers, Division Engineer.

MOVIE STAR NOT IN BURNS CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Clara Swanson "does not enter into this case in any degree," counsel for the defense told the jury hearing the contest over the will of Matthew P. Burns, shoe merchant, who left the bulk of his $100,000 estate to his widow, the mother of the film actress.

Allegations were made by Burns' relatives that Miss Swanson had conspired with her mother to effect Burns' marriage to the latter and draw a will in her favor.

ROALD AMUNDSEN (RIGHT), HIS TWO AIR PILOTS, LIEUT. E. G. FULLERTON (LEFT) AND OSCAR OMDAL (CENTER), THE MONOPLANE IN WHICH THEY WILL FLY OVER THE POLE, AND A MAP OF THE COURSE THEY WILL TAKE.

(By N.E.A. Service)

Oscar Omdal, will hop off with gasoline and food to last 26 hours. They will fly to the North Pole and will land there for observations, if conditions are favorable, before continuing the flight.

Railroad Strike

proximately 15,000 firemen and cinders were added to the list of strikers yesterday, no further accessions to the strikers were expected. After the meeting of the maintenance of way men's grand lodge at Detroit, Friday, the 25,000 maintenance of way men already on strike, would not be outlawed "for the moment" it was said.

Injunctions were granted by federal courts yesterday to restrain strikers from interfering with the operation of trains in the Louisville & Nashville, Louisiana & Texas (Southern Pacific) and Trans-Mississippi Terminal railroads at New Orleans; the Missouri Pacific road at St. Louis; and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Cleveland.

Suits were filed against interference with shop operations at Toledo, Ohio, by the Washburn and at Minneapolis, Ohio, by the Detroit, Toledo & Shore Line.

Picketing was forbidden in injunctions granted four roads at Springfield, Ill.

To Decide Attitude

NEW YORK, July 18.—The 50,000 maintenance of way men and others under the jurisdiction of William Parker, chairman of the New York Central system federation, will decide their attitude regarding the strike this week, according to Mr. Parker. He said the only way to avert a strike is for the management to grant the old wages, the eight-hour day and time and one-half for overtime.

New York Central officials made no comment on Mr. Parker's statement, but repeated former assertions that they were prepared for any emergency.

Men Flogged

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 18.—Four non-union workmen employed by the local Frisco shops last night, while at a dance hall, were taken six miles into the country and flogged, according to reports made to the police this morning.

Called to Chicago

BOSTON, July 18.—John D. Flynn, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks of the Boston & Maine railroad, accompanied by his assistant, H. D. Edridge, left this city today for Chicago, where on Friday the railroad labor board will hold a hearing on the grievances of the clerks. It was reported here that clerks on other roads in this district were taking a strike vote, but it was said the Boston & Maine clerks, having referred their grievances to the wage board, would not take action of this nature until a decision had been handed down.

Report to Detroit

Grand Vice President G. H. Platen of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way and Railroad Shop Laborers, has been instructed by President L. P. Grable to report at once to Detroit, where a special meeting of the executive board has been called to consider what action is to be taken on the strike referendum, owing to the reported continued pressure from the membership for action.

Officials of the Boston & Maine, Boston & Albany, and the N.Y.N.H. & H. said today none of their stationary engineers, firemen or others had answered the call to strike yesterday. Union officials said they had reports of men leaving their work in several shops. The union officials declared that by Thursday all the workers of this class would be out.

The New Haven railroad advertised today for steel car repairmen at its Norwalk steel car shops, which opened yesterday after having been closed since Dec. 24, 1921. Permanent positions were offered those who qualified.

for observations, if conditions are favorable, before continuing the flight. If conditions are unfavorable, they will proceed directly to their destination, Spitzbergen, north of the Scandinavian peninsula, or to Grant Land, depending upon the gasoline supply.

The flight from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen under favorable conditions will be 1800 miles and will take 23 hours. In case of mishap, the adventurers must depend upon carrier pigeons to carry word to rescuers and upon inflated pig-bladders to keep the plane afloat until help arrives.

REPUBLICANS HOLD TOWN

Residents of Captured Area

Terror-Stricken and Unable to Get Away

BELFAST, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—A Mullingar despatch received here today states that the republicans still hold the town.

Residents are terror-stricken and hundreds are unable to leave because the roads are believed to be mined. All motor driven vehicles have been commandeered by the republicans. Scarcely any business is going on in the town.

Notices have been posted at Mullin-parts of Japan.

Amundsen expects to get invaluable scientific data on the flight, and will take motion pictures.

In addition, data collected will aid greatly in directing the Maud's crew to the best advantage as their little vessel drifts through these regions. It is expected.

Amundsen, upon completing the Point Barrow-Spitzbergen flight, will rejoin the scientists and sailors on the Maud, taking a plane from Seattle to the ice-bound schooner.

gar warning the people not to send letters. The republicans are guarding the entrance to the town behind sandbags and holding up and searching pedestrians. The roads for miles around have been blocked with trees, stones and barricades of agricultural machinery. Every bridge in the vicinity has been damaged or mined.

Operate on Big Scale

DUBLIN, July 18.—Talk in Dublin today continues to center around approaching operations on a big scale against the republican irregulars.

Meanwhile national army troops continue to reap scattered successes. Including the prisoners captured by Free State troops during the recent fighting in Dublin, the nationalists now hold approximately 2000 prisoners. Mountjoy and Kilmaham prisons are said to be filled.

Trial by ordeal still exists in some parts of the town.

Allied Premiers to Meet

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—A meeting of the allied premiers to discuss the reparations problem, is expected to be held within the next 10 or 15 days, probably in some Italian city. This was indicated today in official circles where the reparations issue is occupying attention to the exclusion of all else.

FIRST PUPIL TO ASPIRE TO OFFICE

The various candidates will learn the latest arguments in political campaigns from Mrs. Helen B. Wilson, national director of education for democratic women, the "teacher" for the three days' course.

Liquor Cases in Court

hop and other materials that enter into the manufacture of high-power moonshine. Eight bags of sugar, which first attracted the attention of the law, were found in the tenement. The building is owned by Lescard's wife and the paraphernalia was found in an empty tenement over the store. The gas, which lights the store, was connected with the stoves in the empty tenement and was passing through Lescard's motor.

The defendant denied all knowledge of the still, saying that it belonged to the mysterious stranger who had only appeared twice. As Lescard appeared to be prosperous, having a store, a touring car and his wife owning the building, Judge Fisher found him guilty on the evidence offered, fining him $200. He appealed his case and was released on $500 bail to appear in superior court.

A fine example of brotherly love was shown by Manuel Silva when he said the fines of Manuel Freitas and himself. Freitas, a slight fellow, had committed assault on Silva, and was also charged with drunkenness. Freitas, the second party of the assault, was booked for drunkenness. There was no evidence of a direct attack on the part of Silva, so the case was discharged. Both were fined $10 for drunkenness, Silva paying both fines, while Freitas paid for the first class.

When Asa J. Merrill of Billerica kicked Charles Coughlin's dog he was arrested. The result was blows on both sides and appearance in court. The court did not wish to make a record of the case, picking it on file and ordered Coughlin to pay $1.00 to defray the expenses of the court.

One of the victims of a Frontstreet raid was in court charged with the illegal keeping of liquor with the intent to sell. He pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

The erratic driving of a Reo speed wagon in Merrimack street brought down a $20 fine on Mathias J. Necolopoulos. Mathias had just grazed a Ford touring car at the corner of Palmer and Merrimack streets when an officer spotted him.

Restitution in the sum of $35 pleaded both sides, and the count of larceny of a bicycle against Michael Cassidy was filed. Leo Brick, the plaintiff, received his money and was satisfied.

George Nadoff was fined $100 for illegal keeping. The officers found the evidence on his premises.

John Fleming, an old acquaintance of the court, was sentenced to the state farm at Bridgewater on a charge of larceny of a bicycle against Michael Cassidy was filed. Leo Brick, the plaintiff, received his money and was satisfied.

A case dealing with the assault of Joseph Moses by Thomas Kennedy and Cornelius Coughlin was held over to July 25.

Failure to notify the public welfare board that she had a child under three years of age in her care caused the arrest of Lumina Theriault. The woman did not appear in court this morning and was declared defaulted. There may be later developments in this case that will be disclosed at the trial.

Andrew Roven, on the charge of drunkenness, had his case continued further tomorrow. The court wished to further investigate a story of a stabbing in connection with this case.

Joseph Simonds and Andrew Brown, illegal keepers of liquor with intent to sell, had their cases continued to July 29.

Two drunks were released by the probation officer.

"I've forgotten we have a garbage can"

"I used to dread to lift the lid of the garbage can. It was the only housekeeping duty I ever thoroughly disliked. And besides, Dr. Bell's lecture at our Civic Club on Home Sanitation made me realize how dangerous to family health unprotected garbage receptacles can be. He explained how germs carrying flies breed there so rapidly.

"That's how I discovered Sylpho-Nathol, or rather, Clara Penbody discovered it for me. She had been using it for a long time in her house.

"I wouldn't think of using anything else," she said, when I talked to her. "We have tried so many other things. Not one of them was nearly so satisfactory. They either had a perfectly horrid smell or were poisonous, or were so bothersome to mix."

"Sylpho-Nathol is different. It is so easy to prepare—one teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that is ready for immediate use.

"Sylpho-Nathol is safe—just rinse out the garbage can with the solution, sprinkle it in every day, and the flies won't come near.

"Sylpho-Nathol is safe—4½ times stronger than carbolic acid—yet no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap.

"Sylpho-Nathol has so many important household uses—for mop water that destroys germs; for sprinkling in dark, musty-smelling corners; as a flush for closet bowls and for wiping around bathroom floors and fixtures—in fact wherever absolutely germ-free, odorless cleanliness is desired.

"Sylpho-Nathol is efficient, easy to use and economical. It comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If you have never used it, phone your grocer to include a bottle in your order. Either he or your druggist can supply you. If not, he can get it easily. Ask for it by the name—Sylpho-Nathol."

JOHN GRAY ENTERS LISTS

Will Fight Against Jewett, Achin and Berard in 15th Rep. District

The quiet that has prevailed in the 15th representative district, embracing wards 2, 6, 7 and 8 of Lowell, was rudely disturbed today when John J. Gray of 236 Plain street, took out papers, seeking a nomination right under the noses of Messrs. Jewett, Achin and Berard, the present representatives and one or two others who also have expressed a desire to "horn in" on the triple alliance this year.

Mr. Gray's action rudely shattered the dreams of Mr. Jewett and Mr. Achin particularly for the heavenly Twins had anticipated no such political bombshell. What is more, Mr. Gray announced in no uncertain terms that "he is out to win" and will conduct an energetic campaign all the way.

While Mr. Gray has not been interviewed since he decided to become an active candidate, friends who are close to him politically say that he has a number of reform movements up his sleeve, to be launched at appropriate times. One has to do with the legislation of public buying grounds. For some time Mr. Gray has been intensely interested in concrete and more than once has expressed the belief that those who lie there should rest undisturbed by the ranting of politicians.

This is just one of the many things Mr. Gray has in mind along the line of reform in the building with the golden dome.

Eron H. Barlow, county commissioner, has filed papers with the board of election commissioners, as has George E. Marchand, candidate for registrar of deeds. Frank K. Stearns has taken out papers in the interest of his candidacy for the same office.

The seventh candidate in the 15th district has appeared in the person of Dennis Donohue of 583 Central street. Mr. Donohue was a candidate two years ago.

A set of papers has been filed for John Jackson Walsh, candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

ICE DEALERS SUMMONED

BY HULTMAN

BOSTON, July 18.—Twenty-five Massachusetts ice dealers who failed to respond to the questionnaire of Chairman Eugene C. Hultman of the commission on the necessities of life, have been summoned to appear before the commission Friday to show the cost of harvesting and distributing ice and the prices charged. These dealers, Mr. Hultman said, failed to answer a questionnaire sent out to 600 dealers in the state on June 18 and failed to respond to other communications addressed to them on June 30 and July 12.

The dealers summoned included: D. A. Lagassé, Fall River, and the Crystal Ice Co., Taunton.

PLEDGES SUPPORT TO SIX SENATORS

CHICAGO, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The third German-American national conference which closed its sessions here last night, adopted resolutions pledging support to Bayard Rustin of Indiana; Brookhart of Iowa; Brazier of North Dakota; La Follette of Wisconsin; France of Maryland and Reed of Missouri for United States senators.

The conference also demanded revision of war treaties; withdrawal of troops from Germany; approved the inquiry into the alien property control act; and endorsed a constitutional amendment requiring a referendum to declare war except in case of actual invasion; and demanded immediate return of beer and wine.

DECLARES AMERICA MUST TAKE LEAD

MOSCOW, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Voo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow soviet, today discussing the Hague conference said failure to reach an agreement with the European powers was a group undoubtedly would lead to separate negotiations. "We are always ready to enter negotiations with America," he said, "and we have made several advances. But now America must take the lead, since we have had no replies to our previous advances."

BRADBURY WILL RETURN TO PARIS

PARIS, July 18.—The return to Paris today or tomorrow of Sir John Bradbury from London, where he has been conferring with Prime Minister Lloyd George and other British government officials is expected to give considerable impetus to the plan for a new reparations settlement involving the cancellation of the French debt to England and the reduction of the German indemnity to 80,000,000,000 gold marks.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—Mrs. Francis Astell of Seattle, formerly endorsed by the State Federation of Labor, Non-Partisan league and the Railwaymen's Political club, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator at the primary elections in the fall.

Five Alarms Are Sounded

the pavements. Neighbors, rushed out, some tugging household furniture with them, were hung to the streets by the explosion. Many only slightly injured were treated on the spot, the more severely hurt being conveyed to hospitals.

A theory that the fire was started by incendiaries was advanced to the bomb squad by Anthony Lyons, who lives opposite the warehouse.

He told Lieut. Gogan that shortly before 8 o'clock he had seen three men with a pushcart stop in front of the building and carry several boxes in. As they emerged, he said he heard an explosion and saw flames. He turned in the alarm.

Frederick Francis, treasurer of the warehouse company, declined to tell fire officials, before he had consulted his lawyer, what the contents of the warehouses were, but firemen said it contained magnesia and sulphur.

Lieutenant Killed

Lieut. J. J. Shoppemeyer was killed and nearly a score of firemen were injured, shortly after the first fire apparatus had arrived.

Lieut. Shoppemeyer had led his men inside the building, when an explosion burst loose part of the interior and buried him. He was dragged from the building by his men, but was crushed to death in the street, beneath a falling penthouse. Several of the men who had carried him out were injured.

One of the explosions tore away almost an entire side of the building and hurled several firemen to the opposite sidewalk.

Explosions continued intermittently through the forenoon, and the smoke around the building thickened.

Patrick Driscoll, assistant to the general manager of the Star Publishing company which publishes the New York American and the Journal, said his company had a million pounds of newspaper paper stored in the warehouse.

Many of the seriously injured were firemen and police. Hundreds of bluecoats called to the scene rescued frightened tenement dwellers and others were posted at all abandoned dwellings to see that no one looted vacated homes.

Smoke Thick

Two hours after the fire broke out, the smoke had become so thick that a call was sent to a Brooklyn firehouse to bring searchlights to Greenwich Village.

There are no records in the fire department showing any permission for the presence of chemicals in the building and if there were any stored there they were stored there illegally," said Commissioner Drennan.

Death Toll Grows

At noon the casualty list stood at two dead, nearly 20 injured and three missing. The toll was taken, chiefly from the ranks of the fire and police departments.

Among the hundreds driven from their homes were artists and poets inhabiting the Bohemian section of the city. The folk, carrying their canvases and their manuscripts—which in many cases comprised most of their household possessions—raced from their attics and cellars. Nearly five hours after the blaze started the cause was undetermined and the casualty list unbroken. The Red Cross opened a temporary hospital in a 12th street garage.

FOUR LAWRENCE

MEN SHOT AT

Arrive in City and Say Motorists Beat Them and Then Fired

Claimed Offer of Assistance Resulted in Attack Upon Them

LAWRENCE, July 18.—Four men of this city reported to the police today that they had been beaten and shot at by a party of motorists whom they had offered to help near Hampshire Roads, near Salem, N. H. Three of the men, who exhibited several cuts and bruises, gave their names as George O'Brien, John J. Purcell and Amherst Macarthy. The fourth said he was a chauffeur named Young.

The men said that when they offered their assistance to the four men and two women who were occupying the machine, they were told to "mind their business" and that several shots were fired at them. The automobile then started in the direction of Salem, they said but soon returned following the Lawrence motorists still in the vicinity, the police were told that the men badly battered them and after firing several more shots, departed on the Salem road.

Men who gave their names as Thomas Inguirio and Thomas Mo-gan of this city, were later charged for bullet wounds at a hospital here. The police began an inquiry to determine whether the patients had been involved in the reported shooting.

REACH AGREEMENT

Morning Session of League in Expression of Pleasure Over Progress

LONDON, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—At the morning session of the Council of the League of Nations, the Earl of Balfour, British representative, said it was a source of gratification to announce that a complete agreement had been reached between Great Britain and the United States regarding the Palestine mandate and the mandate covering the former German possessions in Africa. The Mesopotamian mandate, however, had not been completely dealt with by the two governments, he said.

Revised drafts of the British, French and Belgian mandates for the former African territories, designed to meet the views of the United States were submitted and approved.

EIGHT CITIZENS ANSWER PIRACY CHARGES

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eight citizens of the French republic are to appear in the assizes court at Aix-en-Provence next Thursday to answer to a charge of piracy on the high seas. They are alleged to have boarded the French steamer Soufrah, bound from Batum for Trebizond.

The men appeared on the captain's bridge. One leveled a revolver at the officer on duty, and the other pointed his weapon at the man at the wheel. Two others took possession of the telegraph office, while shots were heard in various parts of the ship, throwing the passengers into a panic.

The men went through the passengers' possessions, placing jewels and other valuables in a sack. It is charged.

Strike Breakers Weeded Out

Has caused great numbers to quit their jobs.

That only one engine has been turned out at the shops since the strike began has brought considerable amusement to the U. S. men, who know that the road cannot long continue to function without their services, even though all work possible is given to outside shops. As the engine is the most important unit in either a passenger or freight train, the strikers feel that the company must bow to the striking skilled help at an early date.

The press committee stated definitely today that it is very much pleased with the situation as it stands this morning. It feels that it will be but a short time until matters are brought to a head.

Plans are being outlined for a great mass meeting in Billerica some time this week, that the workers and their families residing in that town may know the state of affairs and the way in which the strike is being conducted in Lowell. They want all members of the various crafts in that town to get together.

They state that the largest number of strikebreakers employed at the Billerica plant at any time was 1200. Today the number is placed at 800. These figures include unskilled labor. The unskilled labor, they say, pretensions, as there are very few skilled mechanics at work.

The press committee expressed its gratitude to the Musicians' union for turning out at the mass meeting last Friday night. Yesterday they listened to a speech by C. E. Lindley, grand lodge deputy of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of America, and Frank Jennings, business representative of the International Association of Machinists. They were enthused by the words of both speakers. Mr. Lindley took in the situation in the eastern states and Mr. Jennings gave a general discussion of countrywide aspects.

There will be another mass meeting of the strikers Thursday afternoon, which all members are urged to attend.

The Boston & Maine railroad company issued the following statement in regard to conditions on its road today:

"Passenger and freight service continues to be maintained at normal. General conditions are satisfactory."

Clouts Homer, Is Out for Passing Man on Paths

Can you imagine a batter hitting a terrific drive into the stands for a home run and then being called out for passing a preceding runner on the base lines?

Not well, that actually happened several years ago in a game between Chicago and Washington at Chicago. Catcher Eddie Gharrity of the Washington club was the player who hit the ball. Frank Ellerbe, fourth with Washington, now with the St. Louis Browns, pulled the bit of ivory on the bases, which had Gharrity as the victim.

Two were out and Ellerbe on first with Gharrity up. The Washington catcher, who hits them hard, got one to his liking and sent it sailing into the left field bleachers.

As is customary when some player hits a mighty wallop good for a home run, the crowd let out a cheer when the batter's drive soared into the bleachers.

Ellerbe, off with the pitch, had rounded third when he got the impression that the ball had been caught because of the cheering on the part of the crowd.

Taking it for granted that the ball had been retired, after he rounded

LOWELL MAN TURNED OVER TO U. S. OFFICERS

BOSTON, July 18.—Nicholas Kisloff of Lowell, who was arrested a year ago charged with raising a federal reserve note from $1 to $10, was freed on $2500 bail, and had since been employed in the woods of Maine and New Hampshire unaware that the federal authorities were looking for him, came to Boston a couple of weeks ago and got a job.

Yesterday he thought he would call in to see the bondsman on Loverett street who put up the $2500 sureties at the time of his arrest. The bondsman was very glad to see Kisloff, and he had been looking for him, so when Kisloff wanted to know how his case was progressing, the bondsman invited him to the federal building.

The bondsman's attorney went along with them. When they reached the federal district court the lawyer announced they had come to surrender Kisloff. Kisloff, when questioned, told Judge Mack he did not know he had been indicted last fall. After being released on bail, he said he went to Maine and got a job in the woods. Later he went to New Hampshire to work, he said. A few weeks ago he came to Boston and got a job.

Judge Mack asked Kisloff what it cost him to obtain bail at the time of his arrest. Judge Mack told the bondsman and his attorney that he would not allow them to surrender Kisloff unless $800 was paid back to Kisloff or his friends who raised it for the defendant. Sixty dollars was passed to the court for Kisloff or his friends, and then Kisloff was turned over to the United States marshal.

NEW ENGLAND HAS 50 DAYS' FUEL

BOSTON, July 18.—Figures based on a survey of the coal now on hand for the use of public utilities companies in New England show a 50 days supply for 33 companies engaged in the electric light and power industry; 45 days' supply for 52 gas companies; and 66 days' supply for 11 electric street railway companies, says a statement given out today by the New England bureau of public service information. The survey was made by the American Electric Railway association, National Electric Light association and the American Gas association after 15 weeks of coal strike.

Plans are being outlined for a great mass meeting in Billerica some time this week, that the workers and their families residing in that town may know the state of affairs and the way in which the strike is being conducted in Lowell. They want all members of the various crafts in that town to get together.

fore 11 o'clock at which time the case was again taken up. The statements of facts were presented by both counsel and then Justice Crosby announced that he would not hear arguments and requested counsel to file them in writing between now and Thursday, and he will give his finding later.

A preliminary hearing on the petition was held last Tuesday, at which time it was continued until today in order to give counsel for both sides an opportunity to file statements of facts. Mr. Blazon in his petition contends that Wilfrid J. Achin, who is now serving as an assessor, was not legally appointed to succeed him inasmuch as the city council and not the mayor designated whom Mr. Achin should displace. Mr. Blazon contending that the power of designation lies alone in the mayor.

Mr. Blazon was not present in court this morning, but Mr. Achin was, and prior to the calling of the case, conferred with City Solicitor Flornoy.

EIGHT CHILDREN DIE IN SHELL EXPLOSION

Dangerous war relics are being hunted by authorities at Watertown, N. Y., following the death of eight children, 7 to 16, caused by the explosion of an artillery shell at the home of Edward G. The carpets and sheets cover victims' bodies.

Massachusetts Strike

today to work along with the board which has conducted the strike for the last 13 weeks, in co-operation with the president of the Trades and Labor council. This board will have the first meeting tomorrow at 3 p. m. with the other board in regular meetings every afternoon at 2 o'clock. Plans are being laid for meetings of the common after base ball games, and in other localities as well.

Asked whether or not any action would be taken relative to the situation at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. or the Lawrence hosiery, President Handley stated that it was not worthy of consideration, since the number of workers involved is inconceivable.

Pickets were at the Massachusetts mill gates this morning and again this noon, but no inclination toward disorder was manifested in any case. The workers leaving the mills were untested and unapproached. According to the plans of those in charge the mill will be picketed in the evening as well as in the daytime.

No statement was available at the mill office this morning as none of the officials could be reached. They claimed yesterday that but 200 employees had quit, and as the strikers claimed about the same amount as an addition to their forces this morning, it is doubtful if they would agree with the figures given above.

An Easy Way For

Thin People to Put on

Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, Straightforward Advice to Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that you are nervous system deficient, the root of the trouble. You can eat three, yes, four substantial, fat producing meals a day, but as long as your stomach has an inadequate supply of nervous force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food and convert it into healthy tissue and fat, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy tissue—there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty, nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half started looks are battling with a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for restoring faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact, the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard, a leading druggist everywhere, has agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: Beware of Evans' Triple Phosphates. Beware of cheap imitations. Nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid stay-the-flesh.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past." — Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain. If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a trial.

Deer Startles New Haven Crowd

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 18.—Early morning crowds on their way to work here were startled when a full grown deer dashed across "the green" at the entrance to Yale university and plunged across the city's busiest corner. The deer then leaped full tilt at a trolley car. Tumbling from the car the deer ran across the Bennett Fountain corner and pursued by half a dozen policemen and a crowd of men and boys, fled through several side streets. It stopped for a moment on Crown street and then sped into the corridor of the First National bank building where it died a few minutes later from its injuries and fright.

Filipino Runs Wild, Slashing Eight

MANILA, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A Filipino ran amuck today in the heart of the American residential, hotel and club district, slashing eight persons with a bolo. A large crowd pursued him to the beach at Manila bay, where he jumped into the water and was lassoed by an army captain who had followed him in a boat. There were no Americans among the injured.

Says He Tried to Kill Both

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Gustav Couvet, who fired three shots in an attempt to assassinate President Millerand on July 14, in a formal examination yesterday said he really planned to assassinate the president and Premier Poincaré, expecting them both to ride in the same carriage.

Slayers of Wilson Sentenced

LONDON, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Reginald Dunn and Joseph O'Sullivan were found guilty today, after trial in the Old Bailey, of the murder of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, who was shot down in front of his home on Eaton Place, last month. The convicted men were sentenced to death.

About Prophets

THE old proverb that a prophet is without honor in his own land frequently gains a modern meaning in the fact that the sales of a manufacturer are usually small in his local town.

We have established an exception with Jersey Ice Cream. By far the majority of local dealers sell Jersey. Not because we make it, but because its quality sells it. And because we improve that quality just as frequently as machines and methods are developed to make such improvement possible.

Door Bell on Crystal Set Helps Learn Radio Code

DOOR BELL RADIO TRANSMITTER.

BY PAUL F. GODLEY,
America's Foremost Authority
An ordinary door buzzer, or a door bell with the gong removed, may be connected with an antenna to act as telegraph transmitter.
Hooked up to a crystal receiver such a transmitter has been known to operate satisfactorily over distances of three or four miles. The range covered will depend upon the power of the battery used.
An increasing number of persons who have become interested in listening to radio broadcasting are picking up the code. It adds fascination to reception. It lets the amateur listen in on the inside of radio. The pleasure of being able to understand the thousands of telegraphic messages that are flashed from continent to continent, from ship to ship, more than compensates one for the trouble and time expended in picking up the code. The average time required for mastering the code ranges between three and five months. But, within a very short time, the beginner can reach the stage where he can pick up calls of stations which are usually repeated several times. Having memorized the alphabet, speed in reception can be developed by a little practice on the door-buzzer transmitter.

NEBRASKA PRIMARIES

Race for U. S. Senatorial Nomination on Republican Ticket Interesting

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—Principal interest in the Nebraska primaries centered in the race for the United States senatorial nomination on the republican ticket, in which R. B. Howell of Omaha, republican national committeeman, made his campaign as "a forward-looking republican."
Albert W. Jeffers of Omaha, present congressman; C. H. Gustafson, head of the United States Grain Growers, Inc.; John O. Yelzer of Omaha; Attorney General Clarence M. Davis and Frank John of Grand Island, also were contestants.
In the democratic primary, Senator G. M. Hitchcock, Anthony T. Monahan of Omaha and J. O. Shroyer of Humboldt were candidates for the senatorial nomination.
Progressives were to choose between A. H. Higelow, Omaha attorney, and Arthur G. Wray of York, prominent in Theodore Roosevelt's "Bull Moose" party in 1912, as their choice for the senate nomination.
All three parties have candidates for governor and state officer. The prohibitionists have a woman candidate for congress in the first district, Mrs. E. Luella Barton of Lincoln, who was nominated without opposition.

WILKERSON WILL SUCCEED LANDIS

Film Sense—What Is It? Ask Georges

MAE MURRAY, "THE ROSE OF BROADWAY" IS HER LATEST. SURE, SHE'LL HAVE A DANCE OR TWO IN IT

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, July 18.—Georges Carpentier, prizefighting idol of Europe, has surprised the producers of his new starring movie with his "film sense," a London correspondent informs me. "Film sense" is a new attribute of players. It is rather vague in meaning, but in the case of Carpentier it probably implies he has forgotten he is a prizefighter when he is before the camera as a nobleman.

The term might have a more specific meaning applied to some of our American players. And to directors, too. It is probably a lack of film sense that results in some of our actresses rigging themselves up like spectators of a rabbit nightmare, others overplay-

ing their parts and directors and producers adding bunk to gain footage. Lack of film sense may cover a multitude of sins of omission.

Carpentier's picture is based on an adaptation by Andrew Soutar of "My Lady April," a novel by John Overton. He plays a dual role, a nobleman's grandson and a boxing gypsy.

The picture is now nearing completion. More than 500 appear in the cast. Flora Le Breton is the heroine. She has the title role in "La Poupée" and appeared as the companion to the heroine of "The Glorious Adventure" in which Lady Diana Manners was starred.

Mary Clare also has an important role. She recently appeared on the London stage as the Dark Lady of the Sonnets in "Clemence" Dan's "Will Shakespeare" and also in Galsworthy's "The Skin Game."

J. Stuart Blackton, the producer, has included in the cast many of those who appeared in "The Glorious Adventure." Among them William Lunt who was King Charles II and Rosalie Heath who was Queen Catherine.

Lloyd Brown is credited with having invented a new color process for motion pictures. He has been working on it four years at Hollywood laboratories. Unlike other processes this one is not based on chemical development.

Brown's process lies in an arrangement of photography and projection. A double lensed camera is used to photograph through red and green color filters, two exposures being secured simultaneously. These are printed in black and white on the film, but that in turn is projected upon the screen through color filters.

The film uses 58 images to the foot, arranged side by side, instead of the usual 16 images. The running time of the film is half that of the ordinary film.

The movies continue to make appreciable and visible inroads upon the popularity of the stage. Wm. Fox has leased for the coming winter season two of the most important Shubert theatres in New York, the Lyric and the 44th street. Such feature films as "Nero," "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," "Monte Cristo," "If Winter Comes," "The Town That Forgot God" and "The Shepherd King" will have extended runs.

The Movieforum
Harold Lloyd's "Grandma's Boy" has been running nine weeks at a Los Angeles theatre.
Leah Baird and her company have gone to South America for scenes of her next film.
Uh huh, another title change. "Captain Blackbird" will now be known as "Passions of the Sea."
Fifteen Huns and tigers will support Billy Revan in "When Summer Comes," the next Bennett comedy.

U. S. FOREIGN TRADE SHOWS DECLINE

WASHINGTON, July 18.—America's foreign trade for the fiscal year ended June 30, resulted in a favorable trade balance of $1,162,000,000, which was a decline of nearly $2,000,000,000 from the favorable balance of the previous year, according to reports issued today by the commerce department.

Exports during the fiscal year just closed aggregated $3,770,000,000, and imports $2,608,000,000, as compared with exports of $3,516,000,000 and imports of $3,654,000,000 for the previous fiscal year. Exports last month totaled $324,000,000 and imports $200,000,000 against exports of $337,000,000 and imports of $156,000,000 in June 1921.

MARDI GRAS PLANS FOR THE KASINO

On next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at the Kasino a big Mardi Gras and carnival will be held, with feature attractions of uncommon interest each evening. A change of program each night will add greatly to the success of the affair, which is for the benefit of St. Anthony's church.

On Wednesday evening Doris Conley, one of Lowell's best toe dancers, will be the big attraction. On Thursday evening arrangements have been made to secure the services of Fred Savard, known as the "Dancing Wizard" in a few steps and as an extra added attraction, Misses Lillian and Ethel McLaughlin, two of Lowell's most popular child dancers will appear. After the ball game on the common Thursday evening if the weather permits, there will be a six-mile race starting and finishing at the Kasino. The following entries for this feature have announced their intention of winning the race: Fred Couture, J. Cole, H. Rodrick, J. Wells, C. Bryant and W. Turner. On Friday evening there will be a fancy dance exhibition by Messrs. Jack Devine and Flanagan. All kinds of concessions will be found about the hall.

A regular meeting of the board was held late yesterday afternoon, with only routine business being transacted.

THE POLITICAL TARIFF

Never perhaps in the history of the country was congress involved in a more hopeless controversy than at the present time in the inextricable tariff tangle. It was supposed that the republicans with such a large majority could easily pass any measure they desired, but they have haggled over the tariff bill now for two years and as yet there is little prospect of any definite settlement or satisfactory action. The bill before the senate is regarded as one of the most unworkable that has ever been brought forward for enactment as a solution of the tariff issue. There are 228 members in congress of whom 168 are democrats, but the republican majority is hopelessly split up on all the more important schedules. There is no guiding principle in arriving at a just conclusion on any of the questions under discussion.

The old democratic plan for fixing the revenue was to provide a tariff that would cover the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, but somehow the republicans have purposely abandoned this plan and listened to the appeals of special interests for high tariff duties that will bring increased burdens upon the American people and perhaps retaliatory tariffs by some foreign nations.

Even staunch republicans at the present time urge that it would be better to hold up the present measure and submit it to a tariff commission for scientific investigation and research, pending in the meantime a temporary measure that would serve until the fall of 1923. What is this but an acknowledgment that the whole question should be taken out of politics and submitted to a tariff commission made up of experts who could find the necessary data to guide them in fixing the various schedules.

Senator Frelinghuysen has introduced a bill to submit the tariff to a commission, which would be under the direction of the department of commerce and which would be an extension of the present tariff commission, provision for which was established in 1916. The fate of the tariff measure in the present congress and the aggravating delay which has brought such injury to the industries of the country offer sufficient argument in favor of passing some such measure as that proposed by Senator Frelinghuysen. The revision of tariff schedules should come piecemeal as necessity requires and only after full investigation of the economic conditions to be met and not in the haphazard style followed in constructing the present tariff bill. The experience of the republican party in trying to push through the present bill should be sufficient to bring about a reform under which no similar spectacle would ever be presented to the world by the dominant powers in congress. The tariff should be taken out of politics now and forever.

Complaints have reached headquarters of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce that more than a few drivers of gasoline-propelled trucks on our highways need to be impressed with the importance of courtesy and careful driving on the highways. The committee has just sent out a letter to all its member manufacturers, who in turn are sending letters and pamphlets to their dealers with instructions to place the material in the hands of truck drivers and owners. The Sun is in receipt of a copy of the circular, and the advice is worth spreading to the farthest corners of the land. While truck drivers are not singled out as being solely to blame for numerous road block-ups and blockades, some of them are responsible for blockades that are wholly unnecessary, as drivers of motor vehicles know from experience.

The N. A. C. C. committee urges that truck drivers as a whole be impressed especially with the necessity of permitting faster vehicles to pass them, without driving always at moderate speed, never taking chances, recognizing the rights of pedestrians and being especially careful about children playing in the streets and on the sidewalks.

"Driver discourtesy," says the committee, "must not be tolerated, as it creates a public safety menace to highway transport."

Some of the pointed bits of advice addressed to men who sometimes "hog the road" unnecessarily, are contained in the Chamber of Commerce admonitions as follows:

"It is railroad practice to haul a freight car on the tracks to let the express go by. It is common sense. You are the freight car of the highway—the plunger, the growler, the money maker—a part of the nation's commercial system of transportation. Don't forget the express—give him a chance!"

"You are operating over a finely built highway, your highway, and you have one share. But don't forget that the man in the car behind also has a share in it. There may be ten cars behind you, all shareholders. Are you to be a friend or a foe? You alone can decide."

THE RIVER PROJECT

Among the various advocates of making the Merrimack river navigable, there is none more enthusiastic or better informed on the subject than Andrew J. Sutherland of Lawrence. In the conference of the Merrimack Valley Chamber of Commerce, held at the Merrimack Valley Country club the other day, Mr. Sutherland gave a very comprehensive review of the movements to make the river navigable and the various reports made upon the project since 1916. In 1916, he said, the estimated cost was $7,000,000, but according to Col. Williams' latest report the estimate is now $12,500,000, or 70 per cent. higher than that of 1916. In 1916 the federal government agreed to share half the expense, the other half to be borne by the state; but Gov. McCall vetoed the appropriation by the state, thus holding up the enterprise which was subsequently abandoned, at least for the time being. Mr. Sutherland brought out the very important point that while the increase in the cost of the work proposed is about 70 per cent, the increased value of raw materials and finished products of the Merrimack valley industries had increased during that time by 150 per cent. That is a very significant point that should receive consideration by the authorities at Washington and such antagonists as Hon. John N. Cole when they oppose this movement. Mr. Sutherland offered statistics from the most reliable government authorities to prove his statements. When the hearing comes up at Washington in the fall, it is probable that a strong case will be made out in favor of this river development scheme despite the piled up cost.

FEDERAL PROBE ASKED FOR

The United Textile Workers of America have appealed for a federal probe of the New England textile strikes. These strikes have been running for several months and as yet nothing has been accomplished in the direction of bringing about a settlement. The mills claim that they must get back to the wage scale of 1914 or 1914 despite the fact that the cost of living has not been reduced to the level of those years and the other fact that many industrial crafts are still holding very close to the schedule of former years.

Inasmuch as a deadlock exists between some of the mills and their employees, it is hopeless to expect any settlement in the near future except through the intervention of some outside authority and hence congress or some of the federal bureaus should take charge of the situation and bring about a resumption of operations pending arbitration of the issues involved. We feel that unless something of the kind be done and done quickly there will be much needless suffering and great injury will result to the people, the industries involved and the cities in which they are located.

TOURIST CAMPING GROUNDS

Since the automobile became so common, the custom of country touring and camping by the roadside has become so popular that state authorities, so far from discouraging it, are taking steps to provide for the comfort of such tourists.

Governor Cox has come out strongly in favor of a public camping ground for such parties arriving in the city of Boston. It would be a great convenience to those who do not care to patronize a garage, but most of the camping in this line is done on the country roads or what might be termed the "interurban" routes. However, the governor's proposition should receive consideration, as it doubtless will, and the new camp, if any be forthcoming, might well be designated "the auto tourists' camping ground."

Many of these tourists pass through Lowell, but it is only the gypsies who camp on the roadside. The others put up at garages and find sleeping quarters at the local hotels.

STRANGE HOBBY

A museum of death is started at the University of Brussels, in Belgium. Susan Minna, of Boston, donates her large collection of mummies, poison cups, coffin nails, stuffed buzzards and other cheerful objects.

You wonder why Susan's hobby ran in the direction of the graveyard. She would be equally perplexed at your hobby.

A wise Nature gives us different tastes to make us interesting to each other. If we were all exactly alike, life would be stupid, boring, and when positive opposites come together there is liable to be a scrap.

It's consoling to find someone else cursed with our faults. Human nature eternally seeks allies. It is pleasing to see our good qualities mirrored in others. All of us admire ourselves in the looking-glass.

TUBERCULOSIS CONFERENCE

We are informed that the Lowell district will be well represented at the next New England Tuberculosis conference to be held in Taunton, Mass., probably the last week in September. A special committee on program and arrangements has already been appointed to act with a representative from the National Tuberculosis association and an advisory committee consisting of representatives from each department of public health and each state medical society. It is planned to present a program broad in scope, but rather intensive in the subjects taken up. This should result in a meeting successful in arousing public interest, and also in discussions of real value to those who are actually engaged in the organized fight against tuberculosis.

The miners in West Virginia have injured their cause by their attack upon the mine at Cliftonville and the destruction of property and at least seven lives. If the miners constitute themselves an insurgent army, then they invite military methods for the preservation of order and the protection of life and property.

Perhaps it will be necessary to set up a traffic beacon or some other obstruction at every railroad crossing to prevent autoists from running blindly in front of approaching trains.

SEEN AND HEARD

Spending
"I was in a hurry, judge," explained Albert Memmolo of Brooklyn when Magistrate Fish was imposing a fine on him for speeding. "I wanted to get to the office by 9 o'clock. Why did you want to get to the office?" asked the magistrate. "I've got to answer to a summons for speeding there," answered Memmolo.

Today's Word
Today's word is stipend. It's pronounced stip-end, with accent on the first syllable. The word is long and the word is short. It means a salary for services; wages, salary. It comes from the Latin stipendium, from stipula, a gift given in small coin, and pondera, to weigh or pay out. It's used like this—His weekly stipend was too small to meet expenses.

Nothing Doing
"Mandy, I think I've gwine to put on my boy clothes and go down to do theater tonight to see de chorus ladies dance."
"Mandy, listen here, if dat am what yuh think, den yuh'd better think agin'. Man, yuh ain't gwine put on nothin' to go no place no time to see nobody do nothin' never, noway an' not at all. Does yuh understan'?"

A Bright Little Girl
The youngster who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stripes as well as stripes has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the ark: "Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little ark rode proudly on the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."

Some Traveler
When James McLaughlin, ice cream and confectionery store proprietor of London, O., traveled south on Main street for three and a half blocks a few days ago he crossed the trolley tracks for the first time in 42 years. He has lived in the town 50 years. His store is situated two blocks from his home and for 42 years his journeys have not carried him beyond those two points.

Science vs. Promise
"Which reaches you the quicker?" asked the clergyman. "Sight or sound?"
"Sound, sir," answered Tommy smartly.

"No, Tommy, that's not the right answer. Sight reaches us first. If you watch a band playing a good way off you'll see the drummer hit the drum a second or so before you hear the sound of it."

"Yes, sir, but sometimes sound does reach you first."
"Can you give me an example?"
"Yes, sir. The new church hall. Dad said this morning that we had been hearing about it for the last ten years, and wouldn't see it for the next 20."

Success
One spent his life in getting gold, Regarding of his health,
And found when he was getting old, He had a store of wealth;
And daily he grew richer still, From ruin quite secure,
And everything was his at will, That money could procure.

The other lived from day to day, Without much thought of gain,
Active alike at work and play, A simple life and plain,
With happiness filled to the brim His cup was flowing o'er,

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester will make a very strong contender for the gubernatorial nomination in this state. According to reports emanating from the heart of the commonwealth, Mr. Sullivan is a huge favorite in the central and western parts of the state. At the time of his election to the mayor's office, I was a resident of Worcester, and at that time he was conceded, but small chance against such a strong opponent as the then mayor, John Holmes. He carried the city by an overwhelming majority, however, and has since met with unusual success in municipal affairs. His honor recently stated that he is confident of receiving a 5 to 1 vote in the western area, and regardless of the purported strength of John F. Fitzgerald in the eastern part, Mr. Sullivan expects a 50-50 break here. Being a vigorous campaigner and an optimist of the highest caliber, his political future will be watched with interest hereabouts.

Not to be out-done in modern improvements, the town of Dracut has inaugurated the one-way street system in the vicinity of Lakeview park. The narrowness of the approaches to the park has been a source of constant worry to motorists for some years past, but the new movement alleviates the difficulty to a great extent. The roads themselves have been somewhat improved, and new automobile springs will not suffer from the many holes which have been so annoying in the past. The one-way system is resented by some motorists and motorists alike as a very wise move toward improving traffic conditions at the lake.

An amusing incident is connected with an advertisement which appeared in a national magazine about a week ago. It was worded something like this: "If drinking men with red noses will communicate with us, we will suggest a permanent remedy for the affliction." A local man answered the ad just for fun and received the following reply: "Keep on drinking, my good sir, and your nose will eventually turn blue."

Some people think that all a policeman has to do is patrol his beat and ring in at the hours appointed. Recently I picked up the following explanatory note in the vicinity of the police station on Market street. It is a list of items which must be filed out every month by every patrolman on the force and reads as follows: Persons assisted home drunk; persons arrested; cases of contagious diseases; sudden death; violation of liquor laws; buildings found upon and secured; defective streets and sidewalks; fire alarms given; second alarm; lost children recovered; value of stolen property recovered; gas lights not burning; incandescent lights not burning; electric light bulbs not burning; care of fire hydrants; not lighted; electric lines removed; disturbances quelled. With the exception of the foregoing, the patrolmen have very little to do.

MILL HAZARDS AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

BY S. E. WHITING
Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

Maybe you saw the report of it in the papers? It happened several years ago and I forgot his name, but the shock killed him.

He was in a tannery vat with feet soaking wet and when he grabbed the electric lamp that someone lowered down to him, he immediately fell overboard. Anyhow you doubtless remember the philosopher who hunk in Dan Franklin's time who was flying a kite in a storm and the lightning came down the wire string and killed him. Ben Franklin did the same stunt, but he was more cautious and got only a few rappings on the knuckles. Since those pioneer days, hundreds, yes, thousands of lives have been lost through that invisible force we call electricity.

But why should the safety man worry about this matter? Isn't the electricity we are handling entirely different from lightning because its voltage is low and harmless? Aren't thousands, yes, millions of persons throwing switches on and off every day of their lives without the slightest injury? This is the fact indeed; yet even today we find that every now and then someone gets a fatal electric shock. This is just why we need to consider this "mysterious power" somewhat carefully.

In the first place, electricity is no more a "mystery" than any of Nature's powers, for we know just about as much of its laws and its effects as we do about gravity or heat. We know there is an electromotive force or pressure called "voltage" which tends to cause a flow of electricity just like water or gas pressure. This may be the six volts of a storage battery in your touring car, the 110 volts on the lighting circuit in your home, the 550 volts on your shop motor circuit or much higher voltages (330 or more) on the electric light company's pole line.

Again we know when electricity is flowing (although we cannot see it any more than we can see gravity or heat) because it has certain effects, such as heating up the wires in a lamp or sparking when it jumps across an air gap in your touring car motor or magnetizing iron in a field coil of a dynamo or decomposing chemicals in a vat or giving your body a "shock." We call this a "current of electricity" and measure it in "amperes" and talk about "50 amperes flowing through a small lamp" or "60 amperes and more on a large shop motor."

However, we safety men are most interested in the current flowing through our body when we get a shock. Now this is much smaller than an ampere (usually) so the doctors will talk about "milli-amperes" or thousandths of an ampere and they tell us that 100 milli-amperes (only 1-10 of an ampere) might cause a fatal shock.

See, perhaps you are saying, "this cannot be so because I have seen more than one amperes out of a single dry cell, but who ever heard of a person being killed by a dry cell?"
Right you are, but there is a reason for it, and this reason is the resistance (called ohms) through which the current has to flow. Connect a cord across it and you get no spark at all. Your body has many thousand times as high resistance and the copper wire and so the current is many thousands times smaller. It is just like a water system where the pressure on the mains will send only a small flow of water through a small size pipe, but a large flow through a large size pipe, which, you know, has lower resistance. It is the same with the electric circuit, no current flows. In both cases, you have infinite resistance and therefore zero current, yet the water pressure or head and the electricity pressure or voltage are still there, waiting for a chance to cause a flow.

Now to get down to brass tacks, the way for you to avoid a bad electric shock from 110 volts or less is to keep the resistance through your body always so high that little if any current can flow through it. The current has to make two contacts with your body, or you have an open circuit and infinite resistance. You may say that is easy, and you will use only one hand to touch the electrical parts, keeping the other hand in your pocket, but this will not save you. If your feet are on the ground, the current can sneak in through the one hand that is in contact with live parts, down your body and legs and out through your feet. This is because most any electric circuit is already connected to ground either through leakage in the circuit wiring or by a grounded neutral wire which the lighting company is sometimes required to use.

Now the resistance to electric flow of the human body is an interesting thing because it is so variable. Perhaps the muscles and blood and nerves have fairly constant resistance (although you would expect a short fat man to have lower resistance than a tall thin man) but the surface contacts vary tremendously in resistance. If you have a thick skin and it is dry the resistance will be high, especially if

LONDON, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—A wedding, second only in interest to the nuptials of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles took place this afternoon in St. Margaret's Westminster, when England's richest heiress, Miss Edwina Ashley, married Lord Louis Mountbatten. The groom is a grandson of the late Queen Victoria, a cousin of King George and the closest friend and companion of the Prince of Wales, who was best man. They will spend their honeymoon in Spain as the guests of King Alfonso and later will go to America.

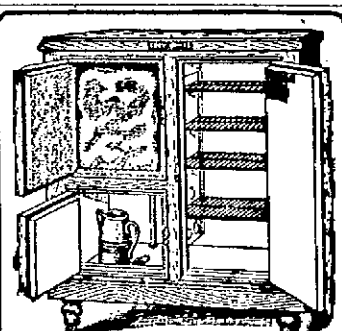

HELLO, BILL!

you touch the live part very lightly, and the same is true of your feet if they are dry and there are no nails in your shoes and you are standing on dry wood. The resistance would then be many thousands of ohms, and you would not get a fatal shock unless the voltage were very high—say several thousand volts. Now this is why so many men get shocks from trolley circuits or motor circuits (at, say, 550 volts) without anything more than a jolt and they will laugh at you if you say that men have been killed on such circuits.

Now do not let them fool you, because I know many a man who has been killed on 550 volts or lower, and it was not "because of a weak heart" either. Off hand, I remember three fatal shocks on shop motor circuits, five fatal shocks on trolley circuits, and six fatal shocks, if you please, on as low as 110 volts such as you find on every lighting circuit. The explanation is that the man had unusually low contact resistance at the time of shock, and therefore a large current flowed through his body. One man stood on a third rail and put his hand on the steel frame of the electric car; another was standing in water in a paper mill and took firm hold of a metal starting box lever; another was lying in a boiler, his clothes damp with sweat and grabbed a "grounded" fan motor; another was sitting in a bath tub with wet hand on an electric vibrator. You see the contacts were all of low resistance because they were of large area or were damp—and you remember Ben Franklin showed how lightning would flow down a long cord of fibre after it got wet by the rain.

Berton Bruley's Daily Poem THE GAMBLER

I know that charts statistical
Will show you shouldn't marry
Until your honorarium
Is quite extraordinary.
But I am optimistical
About what love can do,
For in its sweet delirium
Most any dream comes true.

So, go ahead and marry her
Before you lose romance,
For love leaps every barrier
If you will take a chance.

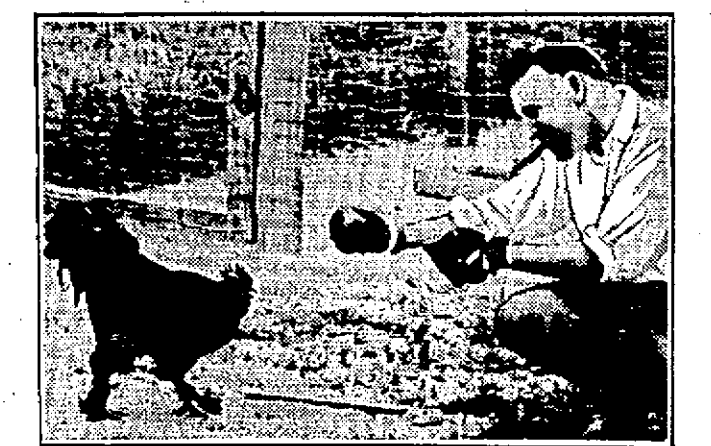

Life's brief; you lose the fun of it
Unless you share together
Some seasons of frugality,
Some times of heavy weather.
Luck varies—face the run of it
And, 'spite of strain and stress,
You'll find that life's totality
Foots up to happiness!

So, go ahead and marry her,
Dull figures do not count—
There isn't any barrier
That love cannot surmount.

I know I'm preaching heresy,
So cautious folks repent,
But if you have a salary
That's big enough to meet
Food, rent, and clothes, I swear I see
Small reason for delay,
Although the cynics' gallery
May have a lot to say.

So, go ahead and marry her,
Forget the cautious stuff,
For poverty's no barrier

Rathenau's Assassins Kill Selves

BERLIN, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Hermann Fischer and Edwin Kern, who for many days have been pursued by the German police as the assassins of the late Foreign Minister Rathenau, committed suicide today, according to a despatch from Halle. The two men shot themselves, the despatch said, as they were about to be captured in the turret of Saalecke Castle, near Bad Koesen, where they had been traced yesterday by the police.

GAS PLANT WRECKED BY TREMBLED ALL OVER BIG BLOWUP

SPRINGFIELD, July 18.—Big from shakers were torn from their anchorages and twisted, slabs from the roof of the building was blown hundreds of feet, and windows and skylights in the vicinity were broken and loosened by an explosion in the plant of the Springfield Gaslight company last night. The damage amounted to thousands of dollars. Fire followed the explosion, but this was quickly extinguished. No one was injured.

The plant, which is near the center of the city, was badly wrecked. The central fire and police stations, which are nearby, were badly shaken. The roar of the explosion could be heard for miles around.

ENGLISH WOMEN
CAN'T SEE JOKE

NEW YORK, July 18.—Mrs. Margaret Moraitis, an English woman who is on her way to her daughter, Mrs. Sappho Lowell, in San Francisco, is probably wondering just who the joke is on herself, or the immigration officials. Although she arrived here a week ago with $1000 in cash and $70,000 worth of deeds to property in Germany, Mrs. Moraitis was detained on Ellis Island until the authorities were convinced that she would not become a public charge.

Mrs. Moraitis said she had been told to conceal her wealth by someone aboard ship because her property was in Germany and that Americans were bitter because of the war. She said that she might be barred from the United States if the source of her wealth was known.

After hearing this statement, Mrs. Moraitis concealed her money and deeds in her clothing and tried her best to deceive the immigration authorities regarding her financial status without telling a falsehood.

"I have with me about $3000 for expenses," she said, "but after what I was told I was shy about telling of it. I could not satisfy the inquiry board, although I said I had plenty enough to live on. The officials sent a telegram to my daughter for affidavits that I would not become a public charge."

Mrs. Moraitis, whose family have been English for generations said she was coming to the United States to spend the rest of her life with her daughter who married a world war veteran.

YOUNG WILD WEST IS BACK AGAIN

BANGOR, Me., July 18.—Harry B. Morgan, 17 years old, who works on a farm just outside the city, got the last of adventure in his veins and broke away from killing potato bugs and hoeing corn.

Harry, it appears, acquired in various ways a regular wild west outfit, including a sombrero, leggings, a short carbine, a revolver and several knives. According to the police he stole a saddle from one farmer, a bridle from another and a horse from E. A. Buck's stable, making off with the horse Sunday night.

Yesterday a farmer in Orrington reported that a young man who looked like a villainous outlaw had passed that way. Sheriff O. B. Fernandez and Deputy Sheriff John Farrar took up the trail in an automobile. They sighted Morgan and, running alongside, Sheriff Fernandez made a flying leap from the running board to Morgan's horse, but just missed and fell, being somewhat bruised.

Morgan put the spurs to his steed and the race was renewed for three or four miles. Morgan saw that he was likely to be caught, suddenly stopped, slid off the horse and put for the woods. Deputy Farrar soon overtook him.

He will be given a hearing tomorrow. Those who know the young man say he must have gone crazy with the heat, mixed with movies. He has had a good reputation previously.

FRENCH MONK IS FOUND IN SPAIN

PARIS, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Mortillao, the French monk reputed to have been the last lover of Mata Hari, the celebrated Dutch dancer who was executed by the French near the end of the war as a German spy, has been located in the Carthusian monastery at Cartuja De Miraflores, Spain.

Mortillao, who was prominent in French social circles, disappeared after a vain effort to save the woman about whom Vicente Blasco Ibañez wrote his war romance "Mara Nostrum."

While leading Carthusians deny that the monk has entered the order, it is affirmed in authoritative quarters that he is in the Spanish monastery attempting to bury his sorrow for his lost love. The woman also was known as Marguerite Zell.

Mortillao is said to have been heart-broken when he discovered that Mata Hari, who was famous for her beauty, was a German spy.

Afterward he learned that she had a husband, a Scottish officer, who married her in Java, taking her from a Buddhist temple, where she was a dancer, and that he died of grief in Scotland after he had discovered her in Paris and was unable to persuade her to leave a German to whom she had become attached.

Mortillao is said to have entered the monastery, in an attempt to expiate for his sins and to forget Mata Hari. He is said to be passing his time in prayer and fasting.

OBSERVE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shepard of 51 East Meadow road on Saturday was in the form of a reception which was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard received the best wishes of their friends and many appropriate gifts. Five children and 14 grandchildren were in attendance, and among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Carpenter of Haverhill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carpenter of Granville, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carr of Lowell, John Shepard of Bridgewater and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fraser of Lexington. Musical numbers were given and luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have been residents of this city since 1886. They were married at St. Joseph's church 50 years ago by the late Rev. A. M. Garin, O.S.B.

TREMLED ALL OVER

"I would have attacks of indigestion, no matter how little I ate," says Mrs. Emma Showers, of No. 170 Glad street, Marion, Ohio, and would have terrible pains in my stomach. My tongue was coated and I had a bitter taste in my mouth. Some nights I couldn't sleep, I had such suffocating nervous spells. Sometimes I would tremble all over with nervousness. I had a dull headache and a soreness across my stomach.

"An article in a newspaper started me taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I could notice quite a difference after the first box. The attacks of indigestion were not as frequent nor as severe. After two more boxes I could see a great change. My nerves were stronger, the trembling stopped and I could get a good night's rest. I do not have the stomach pains at all now. I can eat anything I want and am stronger and better in every way."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are particularly useful in nervous dyspepsia because they build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and tone up the digestive organs. If your case is similar to that of Mrs. Showers you owe it to yourself to give the remedy a trial.

A booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," which tells about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

PEOPLE FLEE IN LEWISTON FIRE

LEWISTON, Me., July 18.—A fire which broke out at 6 o'clock yesterday morning in a shed attached to the Vaughan block on Lisbon street, owned by the Thomas Vaughan estate, gutted the building, and caused several of the tenants to hasten out in their night clothing to escape the flames.

Felix Gallipour, an employee of the Lewiston Gas company, was aroused from sleep by smoke which was fast filling the room, and had barely time to awaken his wife and five children before the room was full of flame. An infant had a narrow escape from suffocation.

The Gallipours have recently moved here from Canada, and had a lot of new furniture, which was all destroyed without insurance. Leo Boucher, his wife and nine-month-old child also escaped with difficulty from the building. The building was fully insured, but only one tenant had any insurance.

FREGKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

TWO LARGE PURSES
ON BIG TIME CARD

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 18.—Two $2000 purses were at stake in the Grand Circuit racing here today in the Celery City event for 2:18 trotters and the Burdick hotel fixture for 2:07 pacers. The former race was put over from yesterday. In addition three events worth $1000 each, were on the day's card. They were the 2:10 trot, in which 19 were named, the 2:17 pace which drew 13 and the Recreation park purse for two year old trotters.

Only one favorite, Leo Worthing, came through in the opening day's racing yesterday, winning the 2:12 trot. "Pop" Sears put over a long shot in Jack H. to win the 2:16 and John Henry upset the favorites by beating Grace Direct in the 2:05 pace.

Bandits Killed From Ambush

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Eusebio Gorozave, the bandit leader, and one of his lieutenants, were shot and killed from ambush yesterday, according to advices from authentic sources in Tampico. A newspaper despatch from Tuxpam says the bodies are being brought to that city.

YOUTHS SENT TO JAIL FOR HOLDUPS

GREENFIELD, July 18.—Justice Burns in the superior court yesterday afternoon imposed sentences on four young men who had pleaded guilty to indictments returned by the grand jury last week. Leo Bergman of Dorchester and Chester Conger of Grand Rapids, Mich., who on May 28, held up Fred Tirrell, a local automobile salesman, bound and gagged him and stole his car, got one year each in the house of correction. Former Justice Edward L. Shaw of Northampton, Eugene B. Conger, father of Chester, and Roy Chas. W. Marriam, a former Greenfield pastor, now of Grand Rapids, asked the court to let Conger return to his home but Judge Burns declined, in view of the prevalence of automobile stealing in the Connecticut valley.

Carlos E. White of Winchendon, indicted for breaking into the railway station in Turners Falls, got six months in the house of correction, and Arthur Stevenson of Winchester, N. H., for assault, got four months there.

Our Lowell-Made Ice Cream Is Sold
On Its Merit Alone!

TO sell a product on any basis other than that of quality and value is an indication of its inability to sell on its merit alone. Therefore the Boston Ice Cream Co. has never attempted to push the sale of its ice cream in Lowell through any methods other than those sanctioned by high-grade business ethics.

We make our ice cream of the finest ingredients obtainable, and we sell it in large quantities to discriminating residents of Lowell, simply because it has become famous for its flavor and purity.

We have never found it necessary to offer premiums to the buying public in order to induce people to purchase our product. We are in the business of making and selling pure ice cream, and while artificial sales methods may obtain an occasional customer—quality and purity alone can hold his patronage.

We feel confident also that the fair-minded citizens of Lowell will frown on the propaganda now being published by certain of our competitors in an attempt to control the sale of ice cream in this city.

Our local plant is a Lowell institution where ice cream is made by Lowell people for Lowell people. For fifteen years we have been paying taxes to the City of Lowell and wages to its residents—amounting in all to many thousands of dollars.

We endeavor always to conduct our business in a way that is beyond criticism. Our product speaks for itself. We, therefore, seek the continued patronage of the residents of Lowell who buy their ice cream—or any other commodity—on the basis of quality and value.

Luque Is Most Defeated Pitcher

ADOLFO LUQUE AT THE WATER BOTTLE

Adolfo Luque, Cincinnati's Cuban pitcher, is leading all the hurlers of both major leagues—in defeats.

But Luque also is pretty near the leading hard-luck pitcher of the big show. He's pitching for a club that is batting mightily well this year and scoring a lot of runs. But the Reds seldom make runs for Luque.

So far (including games of Friday, July 7) Luque has lost 14 games and 2 of the 18 games which he has started were contests in which the Reds made 10 or fewer runs for him.

He has been shut out twice. His team has made only one run in five different games he has started. In five others his club made two runs for him.

All told, Luque has pitched 141 innings for the Reds this year and yielded 63 runs, an average of not quite four runs a nine-innings game. He has pitched eight games in which he held the other team to three or fewer runs a game, but of these he has won only one.

At the time these figures were computed only one National league pitcher—Reuter of Brooklyn—had pitched more ball than Luque, and Reuter had worked just one more inning. Six American league pitchers had tossed more innings at that time, but none of them was close to Luque's record of 14 defeats.

Batting is not the only place in which the Reds have failed Luque. He has been taken from the box a few times this year and the game gone into the records as a knockout against him when he would have struck it out and probably have won had not his mates booted the ball behind him or missed catches that went for hits.

Luque's pitching record for the season is interesting. What has happened in each of the Cuban's 15 starts is here given:

April 13—Knocked out in eighth inning by Chicago; Reds made only one run.

April 17—Beaten by Pittsburgh, 1 to 0.

THE HAGUE, July 13 (by the Associated Press).—Every delegate to the Russian conference had the feeling today that affairs were approaching a climax. The Russian representative are furious at the European experts' refusal to arrange a general meeting of the leaders to discuss together all the problems before the conference and declared that nothing could be accomplished by holding separate detached negotiations. The French delegation has little faith in the attempt to reopen the conference.

"ARE YOU DR. SNUFFLEST?" ASKED NICK

Nancy and Nick stepped up to a little fairy man who was lacking a sign on his nose.

"Are you Dr. Snuffles?" asked Nick.

"Yes, sir," answered the tiny gentleman pompously. "I have that honor."

"And are you wanting help?" went on the little boy.

"Yes, indeed," replied Dr. Snuffles with a sharp glance out of his shrewd eyes. "Why? Do you know of somebody?"

"We were thinking maybe you'd take us," said Nick.

"Oh, sir! Would you?" begged Nancy.

"If you love to help," said Dr. Snuffles, "I'll try to do anything you tell me, sir!" answered Nick.

"So in they all went, leaving Chirk Chipmunk, who'd been listening, all eyes and ears, to skip away and chatter the news all over the whole place."

SUPT. DOHERTY IS PUT BACK

Reinstated Board of Public
Service Holds Interesting
Meeting

Doherty's Removal Illegal—
Settles Question of Hiring
and Firing of Men

The board of public service yesterday afternoon reinstated Harry P. Doherty as superintendent of streets for the expressed reason that, in its mind, he had never been legally removed—or, in other words—that he had been illegally removed by a vote taken at the time when Messrs. Cloutier and MacKenzie were serving as temporary members of the board.

Supt. Doherty's reinstatement came during the first meeting of the old board composed of Messrs. Murphy, Leary and Bowers since the reinstatement by the city council of the two first named after a public hearing had been held on the mayor's removal charges. The reinstatement of the superintendent was a most matter of fact action, entirely devoid of any flourish or oratory. Chairman Murphy simply stated that the board would reinstate Mr. Doherty for the reason that he had been removed from the superintendency illegally and it was so done.

To Resume Duties at Once

The superintendent was instructed to resume his work at once and the city engineer, as secretary of the board, was instructed to notify the city auditor of the board's action.

In connection with or, at least, closely related to Mr. Doherty's return to his former status, Chairman Murphy settled one or two points relative to how the work of the department coming under the board's shall be carried on.

Engineer to Lay Out Work

For instance, he told Engineer Stephen Kearney to lay out all the work for Supt. Doherty to do, and disposed of the question of hiring for the street or water department by instructing the two superintendents to submit all requisitions for new help to the engineer, who, in turn would present them to the board. As to discharging men, that will be handled entirely by the board and superintendents in departments.

Asphalt Paving by Contract

A proposal to furnish and lay sheet asphalt and asphalt concrete on Topeka paving in the city was submitted by the Framingham Construction Co., through its treasurer, Chester B. Williams. The proposal carries a price of $11 per ton for Topeka, which would figure approximately $100 per square yard. Sheet asphalt was quoted at 49 per ton and with a top course, $12 per ton. In all instances the city is to prepare the street foundation and grade.

The board considered and discussed the proposal at some length, including the attached specifications, which are those of the state highway commission, but reserved its decision until today, when it will again meet Mr. Williams. In the meantime, the city collector will be asked to look over the proposal and agreement submitted by the Framingham Co. and to sign out, or direct the board in the legal course to pursue.

Meeting in Detail

The board met at 4 p. m. with all members present.

The widow of Israel Naudes, 123 Railroad street, complainant of the large amount of her last water bill and after discussion, it was voted to allow her an abatement of $15.

The superintendent of water works was authorized to permit permission to the N. Y. N. H. and H. railroad to repair the spur track running to the pumping station in the Hatfield brook district.

Pole Orders Approved

Permission was granted the L. E. L. Corp. to abandon one pole in Bridge street near Third street and to erect two poles in Third street near Beacon.

The White Way extension in East Merrimack street, embracing 27 new ornamental poles, also was officially approved. Permission also was granted the Lowell Electric Light Co. to erect two poles in Essex at and to relocate a pole in Lenox street.

Set Date For Hearings

It was voted to hold hearings on the petitions on the evening of July 27 and to take a view of the places covered thereby on that afternoon.

Chairman Murphy read a letter from M. J. Sharkey, submitting a proposition to sell the city a gravel bank in

Useful Gift to Capt. David
Petrie as Mark of Esteem

Nothing pleases a man more than to know that he is held in high esteem by his fellow-workers, and last night Capt. David A. Petrie, who was recently transferred from the night police desk to the criminal investigation bureau, was shown how his associates at the station regard him. He was presented with two comfortable Morris chairs and a beautiful art square, with Patrolman Edward Flannagan making the presentation.

The affair took place in the guard room at the time the day and night shifts were together and was a complete surprise for Captain Petrie. Officer Flannagan stated that the men appreciated all the favors that the captain had done for them and that they wished to express the feeling that existed between them. He also said that while the men were very glad of his promotion, they were sorry to see him leave their end of the department.

Captain Petrie was quite affected by this show of appreciation and in reply said that his 11-month work as night captain was one of the most pleasant periods of his life. By his contact with the officers he learned of their good traits and added that he would always cherish the remembrances.

When it comes to the purchase of all materials the superintendent will fall under a contract, they shall be requisitioned for only by the city engineer, as secretary of the board and only on authorization by the board.

There was considerable discussion of bills presented by Louis B. Palmer & Sons for hauling edge and edgework. The Grantville concern has the contract this year, but under it, it is only required that the stones be delivered at the Lowell landing, at Boston street. On request of the city engineer, the stones were being trucked to the jobs and a bill covering this hauling has been submitted. The board was satisfied that Mr. Palmer has a just claim and the matter will be adjusted at the next meeting.

After approving a few bills the board adjourned at 6:20 p. m. to meet today at 4 o'clock.

Local Alma Mater Makes Appeal to Her Sons and Daughters for Construction of Athletic Stadium

PROPOSED ENTRANCE TO NEW HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC HOME

The campaign of the Lowell High School Alumni association for raising funds for acquiring and equipping a permanent athletic field for the boys and girls of the Lowell high school starts Wednesday (tomorrow) at the rooms of the chamber of commerce, 308 Fairburn building, and will be in charge of a committee of representative men and women of Lowell, of which Bennett Silverblatt is chairman. The committee consists of the following:

Bennett Silverblatt, chairman; Edward W. Trull, secretary; Abel R. Campbell, Xavier A. Delisle, Thomas C. Garvey, William A. Hogan, Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dennis J. Murphy, Elmore J. MacPhail, Frank McGilly, Harry G. Pollard, Arthur D. Prince, Dr. James H. Rooney, A. Hutchins Parker, Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, John F. Sawyer, Fred N. Wier, Max Goldman, John J. Pickman, Charles McIntyre, James P. Roane, Robert E. Marden, Charles Quade, John Jacob Rogers, Charles H. Allen, Averton Souffras and George E. King.

Mrs. Louis Olney, Mrs. Patrick Ryan, Mrs. Edward M. Murphy, Mrs. Mason R. Bryant, Mrs. Pierre N. Brunelle, Miss Alice Lee, Miss Esther Ziskind.

The committee plans a thorough and energetic campaign among the alumni and friends of the school in Lowell and elsewhere, to raise as speedily as possible the money required to purchase and equip Spaulding park and the adjoining land in time for high school athletics in the fall.

The committee has adopted the following slogan for the campaign, "The high school expects you to do your duty."

The committee which secured the Spaulding Park site for the proposed athletic field was composed of Bennett Silverblatt, chairman; Charles H. Minton, James P. Roane, Robert E. Marden and Edward W. Trull. Some six weeks ago a meeting of the alumni was called to start a movement for the securing of an athletic field for the benefit of all the pupils of the high school, both boys and girls. From the very start, the factor was given the strongest emphasis—that the field was to be for the physical development of both boys and girls and was not to be devoted solely to the use and interests of athletic teams. The association has had in mind in all its endeavors the welfare of all its pupils of the school.

The building site committee held many meetings and looked at a number of possible sites for a field. At a subsequent meeting of the alumni the committee recommended the acquiring of Spaulding park and adjoining property belonging to the estate of Edward Cawley.

Property in Question

The committee was thereupon authorized to enter into negotiations leading to the purchase of that property. They have secured from the owners of both tracts of land the right to purchase the property in question—Spaulding Park, so-called, containing about 3 1/2 acres, and the Cawley land adjoining, containing about 9 1/2 acres. The total area of the land which is to be purchased at once is approximately 13 acres.

Spaulding Park is admirably designed for the uses in which the association purposes to put it. For many years it was used as the grounds of the Lowell baseball team in the old New England league. The committee in its investigations found the soil at the park to be of an excellent quality because of the sandy condition of the subsoil, making it possible for the surface to dry up quickly after a storm.

The site chosen by the committee is the most available to the centre of the city of any tract which would answer the purpose of the association. It is on a direct line of street railway double tracks extending almost from the Textile school at one end of the city to the present park at the other. It is also on one of the main state highways leading to Boston, making it easily available to motorists and, in fact, to the entire general public.

First Street Oval

The First Street oval which had been suggested many times as an ideal place for the high school athletic field was under consideration by the alumni association, but was rejected by the building site committee for three reasons. In the first place, the area is too small to answer the purposes of the school, secondly the oval was bought by the city from the Locks and Canals for the use of the public in general and therefore cannot be used exclusively for the school and third, under existing laws it would be impossible to charge admission fees. For these and other reasons the committee found it impractical to consider the oval as a serious possibility.

The athletic field movement has the cordial support of the school committee and park commission whose members are anxious to aid and co-operate in every possible way in the development of the proposition.

Alumni Will Hold Title

The title of the property will rest in the Lowell High School Alumni Association, and this organization will develop it to meet the requirements of present and future uses of the high school.

The fence around the present park and the grandstand and bleachers are in poor state of repair and will have to be replaced. This restoration has been included in the committee's recommendations to the association.

Below is a brief financial tabulation which shows in a nutshell just what is to be done with the funds to be raised by the Alumni for the new field:

Land to be acquired at once:
Spaulding Park	$7,000
Cawley land adjacent	5,400
Total cost of land	$12,900
Restoration of fences, grandstand, bleachers, in Spaulding Park	7,200
Buildings to include lockers, toilet facilities, heating apparatus, shower baths	10,000
Contingent fund	1,900
Grand total	$32,000
Urge Brick or Cement

This total the committee recommends as a conservative estimate to place the grounds in condition for immediate use. The committee further recommends that the building containing locker rooms, etc., be of permanent construction, either of brick or cement, so that it will be of lasting character.

As soon as funds are made available, a building committee from the alumni of the school will be elected to have full charge of the development of the property, having in mind the needs of both boys and girls. The grounds will be kept in first class condition at all times and not be allowed to run down or deteriorate.

It is intended to develop the field not only for baseball and football but also to construct a running track, tennis courts and possibly a hockey rink in the lower land to be used for ice sports. It is also planned to purchase movable bleachers to afford facilities for spectators at football games.

Had No Locker Facilities

Up to the present time there have been practically no facilities for athletics for the boys of the high school. Spaulding park had no shower or locker facilities, so that the boys were compelled to use the annex in Paige street after their contests. There has been no place for practice within easy reach of the school where proper facilities were available. With the proposed dismantling of Spaulding park there would be no enclosed area for the conduct of high school athletic activities and it would have meant practically the abandonment of outdoor high school athletics.

The movement of the Alumni association is designed not only to provide a suitable field but to put the school's athletic program on a substantial basis, first, by supplying a proper field for its development; second, by encouraging supervision of all athletics, and third, to stimulate interest and attendance in high school contests.

Plan To Let Grounds

It is also apparent that if Spaulding park were dismantled that playing baseball or football by any teams, but with the acquisition of the proposed field the association could let it, when not being used by high school teams and thereby derive revenue for the maintenance of the grounds.

It is intended to have a plan made showing the possible future development of the property. It is also planned that the various classes which are to be graduated in the future will have an opportunity to donate funds for the continued development of the field. In the coming drive, donations will be credited to the classes of the contributors, dating back to 1896 and coming down to this year's class. It is hoped to stimulate rivalry between the classes. Not only the alumni but all friends of the school, both of this city and out of town, are asked to take part in the campaign.

Where To Send Donations

Contributions may be sent directly to Edward W. Trull, treasurer of the association, at the clerk's office in the district court building in Market street, or may be left at any of the following banks: Varnum National bank, Appleton National bank, Old Lowell National bank, Union National bank, Lowell Trust Co., and Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

Attention is called to the coupon accompanying this article, which should be filled out and sent either to Mr. Trull or to one of the banks mentioned above. All checks should be made payable to Edward W. Trull, treasurer. Be sure and state the class with which you were graduated.

Those who intend to contribute are asked to do so as soon as possible, as it is desirable to get the field in shape without delay.

DEVELOPMENTS IN JITNEY WAR

Fight Now Centered in Malden But May Spread
Any Moment

Boston Elevated Will Operate Lines Regardless of "Jits" for Present

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, July 18.—The jitney warfare, which for the present is situated in Malden, but which is likely to spread to every part of the state at any moment, ended, as far as the state house is concerned today after a final skirmish that was more intense than anything yet staged.

In Malden jitneys took up a line of travel along the street, car line had given it up. The jitneys made money and the roads announced that they would again operate cars if the jitney license was suspended. A long fight was anticipated at the state house, when suddenly, announced today that it would operate cars at once without the jitneys sitting up.

This on the face of the matter would seem to indicate that Malden will have both the street car lines in question and the "jits." Malden will—but probably only till November.

Joseph Hart, the operator of the jitneys, says that five of the seven aldermen in Malden and 10 of the 21 common councilmen have promised the Boston Elevated that if the road restarts its service they will not renew Hart's license in November.

"They men have sold me out six months before my license is up for renewal," said Hart. "But jitneys will continue to run in Malden, even if I have to go to jail. I am running 12 jitneys in that city at the present time and take in 2,000,000 passenger fares a year. I am giving a fine ride for five cents (the road charges ten) and I am going to continue to give that ride."

The case before the public utilities at the state house started when persons objecting to the Hart jitneys engaged the distinguished lawyer, Geo. Mayberry, to fight Hart. Attorney Mayberry has dropped the case of his client, now that the road has voluntarily resumed service.

The case has divided Malden in two sections and the Montages and Capitols declare they will carry on the feud without compromise. The jitney-warfare will, of course, figure prominently in coming elections.

In the meantime the Hart jitney force has spread to surrounding cities and towns. Some have admitted the service where the railways have frankly given up street car operation. Metrose, which adjoins Malden, has been holding public meetings discussing the advisability of letting the Hart jitneys come into the city. Hart promises the city long rides for half what the street railways will charge. Opponents of the Hart system in Metrose say that it has once gets in the street cars will have to leave the city permanently and Metrose, like Gloucester, will be entirely served by jitneys with no street car lines. In Gloucester the street car rails are rusty and overgrown. The big fishing centre goes about its way with volumes of trade and thousands of summer residents depending alone on automobiles, taxis and jitneys.

Other cities in the eastern part of the state are chaffing under the high street-railway fares and looking with some degree of approbation on the jitneys. It is safe to predict that in the near future the public utilities, as well as local city and town authorities, will have to make many "jits" decisions.
